Many Strange Things are Discovered On Rear Window Shelf of Family Car

The rear shelf of the family auto has become what the attic was to the house—a receptacle for the odds and ends that people insist on accumulating.

A tour of the Pottstown business district Wednesday afternoon by a reporter and a photographer located enough stuff on the rear shelves of parked automobiles to stock any ladies auxiliary rummage sale.

The photos accompanying this story were taken during Wednesday's tour.

Included in the collection were the expected umbrellas, paper tissues, window scrapers—and the unexpected—a kitchen sink, one galosh and a model of a Tyrannosaurus.

The kitchen sink was part of a collection of doll house furniture snuggled in the corner of the rear shelf of a two-tone green hardtop parked on the 200-block of High street.

IN ADDITION to the miniature furnishings, the rear shelf contained a plaid umbrella with a broken spoke poking through the cloth, and a comic book with the latest adventures of Mighty Mouse in his fight against the fiendish felines.

The car at the next meter had a comparatively clean rear shelf—and was within ten minutes of getting an overtime parking ticket. The 1954 model maroon car had only a box of tissue on the rear shelf.

flies. A battered fedora was tilted on its side.

ON THE other side of the street the first car, a shiny 1960 model with sparkling chrome, evidently belonged to a well-traveled person. The shelf contained seven road maps of the type given free at the filling station—ranging from the New England states to Florida—and a copy of sheet music.

Other items discovered lurking on the back window shelves of cars were a blue cowboy hat, boy's size; a golfing cap, man's size; a 50 cent paper book; an empty coffee can, and the Tyrannosaurus.

The Tyrannosaurus, lying quietly in a box waiting for a young boy to join his plastic bones with glue, glared from the multi-colored cover.

But as handy a storage space as the rear shelf is, it presents sudden dangers—like getting hit in the back of the head when you jam on the brakes, or obstructing vision when pulling from a parking space or into another lane of traffic.

The tissue, however, was too dirty to function as it normally should and would probably be relegated to cleaning windows and oil dipsticks.

The next car was clear, but the car after that produced a fly reel and clear vinyl box with a collection of brightly colored

'RESIDENTS' GROUP IS ORGANIZED

Seeks to Arouse Opposition to Dam

OTHERS CONTINUE DRIVE TO GAIN LAKE, PARK

French Creek Valley residents continue their drive to arouse interest in the U. S. Army Engineers project which proposes a huge lake and park covering 4280 acres along the French creek from Brownback's church to St. Peter's.

In a meeting, a small group officially organized and adopted the name "French Creek Valley Residents." The organization's purpose is to attempt to head off the dam program to "save the beautiful French Creek valley."

Preparations were made to publicize a meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the Vincent Consolidated Elementary school, Heistand's corner, Route 23.

Then, the Civilian Report group of the U. S. Army engineers will attempt to answer all questions concerning the project.

TENTATIVE PLANS show a huge dam will back up French creek to cover 1800 acres, and 2480 more acres will be condemned to develop recreation facilities.

The thorny question is when will the project begin. At the moment, the best answer the

Headmaster's Car Parked in Patio

Just a fourth of The Hill school's enrollment is on campus awaiting Summer vacations.

The remaining boys apparently were bored and decided to enliven things a bit — particularly for their headmaster.

Headmaster Edward T. Hall parked his imported car in front of The Hill's dining room. He was a trifle shocked when he returned for the auto Wednesday, because it was gone. That despite having the car keys in his pocket.

The small vehicle, however, was found in the dining room's patio.

A band of students lifted the car on their shoulders and hoisted it 50 yards. Identity of the culprits is unknown, said Howard Evans, dean.

But he noted that such antics "are not unusual" at the end of the school term.

Teen-ager Hurts Arm In Fall at School

Thomas Stein, 13, Kepler road, Pottstown RD 3, suffered an injury to his right arm Wednesday when he fell at Pottgrove High school. He was admitted to Pottstown hospital for observation.

When's My Hearing? Big Jim Demands

Eight Air Conditioners Bought for Borough Hall

The recreation-property committee of borough council Wednesday night voted to award bids for the purchase of eight air conditioners for borough hall, and a new roof for Bethany Recreation center.

Sears, Roebuck and company, the low bidder, was chosen to install the air conditioners for a price of $1670, and Elmer Erb, Pottstown contractor, earned the roof work with a low bid of $2750.

In other business, it was reported a 16 inch electric floor waxing machine had been ordered for use in borough hall.

The committee toured Memorial park and discussed the possibility of annexing marginal land adjoining the park to develop as more borough recreational area.

BIDDING ON the removal of the old roof from Bethany, construction of a new shingle cover and a 15 year guarantee were Erb, William Boalton ($3190), and Main Roofing company of Norristown ($4850).

A total of $4000 was set aside in the 1960 borough budget to cover the cost of the roof, so original estimates were undercut by the successful bidder.

Six firms bid on the air conditioning units, and the Sears bid was low by such a degree that the committee decided to purchase four larger units than it had anticipated.

The original Sears bid for two "2 ton" units, three "1½ ton" units, two "1 ton" units and a "¾ ton" unit was $1582.

OTHER BIDDERS were Levitz Furniture company ($1770), Charels E. Snyder ($2191.65), Builders Equipment and Supply company ($2372.20), Pottstown Refrigeration and Ventilating company ($2496), and Joseph Zangrilli and Sons ($2935).

The committee then agreed to buy two "2 ton" units and six "1½ ton" units from Sears because the price was so low.

Committee members Harold J. Casselberry, Albert Jacob and chairman Joseph J. Cain voted in favor of the Sears proposal. Earl Bicer opposed, noting "just because they're cheapest, there's no way of knowing how long they'll hold up."

July Favored By Guessers

July is going to be a hot month — if The Mercury's amateur weather forecasters are correct.

Three more guessers checked in with predictions on the date and time that the temperature will rise the highest during June, July and August—and two of them chose July.

Mrs. Russell Pfleger, of Pennsburg, predicted that the temperature will hit its zenith at 3:01 p. m. on July 19.

Barbara Wile, of Rahns, disagreed. Her guess is July 24 at 4:11 p. m.

Carl O. Hontz, of Elverson, disagrees with all the previous guessers and chose August 27, at 3:17 p. m. for the time when the mercury will attempt to push its way through the top of the thermometer.

ALL THREE are now eligible for the $130 in prizes that the winner will pick up in the contest sponsored by The Mercury and 12 area businesses.

The rules are simple. Just fill out the entry blank on page 2 of today's Mercury with your choice for the hottest month, day, hour and minute of the three-month June, July and August Summer season.

Then bring your entry to The Mercury office, King and Hanover streets, or place it in an envelope or paste it on a post card and mail it to the Weather Editor.

Light Goes Overboard In Doing Duty

It must have been the cloudiness and gloom during May that possesses a street light over the corner of North Charlotte and Mervine streets to burn both night and day.

Neighbors have noticed the light cheerily spreading its beams in the daytime for several weeks, and one fellow said, "A month? Could be possible . . 'course I don't ordinarily look for lighted street lamps in the day."

When informed of the situation, borough officials said, "So what? We don't pay anymore if its lit in the day. We pay so much per light per year. Now if there's a light not working at night it's another story."

The Philadelphia Electric company granted there was no particular reason why the energetic bulb should be working overtime. "Must be broken down somewhere along the line," a service representative said, "we'll look into it."

Meanwhile, yon light burns bright, both day and night.

TEMPERS ERUPT AT MEETING

Commissioner Charges Ex-Chief Didn't Reply

GUADAGNO PLANS TO CONTINUE FIGHT

By BEN TEPLITZ
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Tempers flared Wednesday between ousted police chief James V. Guadagno and a West Pottsgrove commissioner who backed the firing.

The exchange of heated words was at a commissioners meeting in the West End Fire hall.

Guadagno's six year career as a township police chief ended April 30. But he and his attorney claimed a list of charges and a public hearing was necessary before the dismissal became legal.

Guadagno on Wednesday asked when his hearing would be. He might not get one.

ELMER HAMPTON, president of commissioners, said, "Jim, our complaints against you (seven of them) were filed with your lawyer May 3.

"According to State law, you had ten days to answer our charges and that wasn't done. Our solicitor suggested we extend the deadline to 20 days and we did just that.

"But there never was a reply to our charges of negligence on duty. From here on out I don't know anything

Tatnall Company Expansion Starts

An expansion program has begun at the Tatnall Measuring System company, Kimberton road, Phoenixville, that will add a 12,000 square foot building and a 176 car parking lot to the exhisting 22,000 square foot building.

Construction of the parking lot began Tuesday and plans are for the entire project to be finished in three months. The contract was awarded to Wark and company, Philadelphia.

The Tatnall company is a subsidiary of the E. G. Budd company, Philadelphia, and purchased the present one story, air conditioned building early in 1957. The property includes ten acres of land which can be used for expansion.

The one story addition will be of building block and on one corner a 22 foot high bay will be constructed for erection and testing machines, Joseph J. Gardner, plant engineer, said.

He added that another enlargement of a 20,000 square foot building is in the planning stages.

Gardner said the company will not add to the 175 employes at present, but would wait for the development of additional products.

Tatnall manufactures testing equipment for the rubber, textile, plastic and metal industries, besides testing various materials.

PERKIOMEN SCHOOL PLANS TO SCAN BIDS

New Dining Hall Planned for Campus

Officials of the Perkiomen school expect to open bids for construction of a new $200,000 Parents' dining hall in about a month and a half.

Dr. Stephen W. Roberts, headmaster at the Pennsburg institution, said Wednesday night actual construction work on the new building should get underway by mid-August.

Dr. Roberts also disclosed that plans are being drawn up for a combination science and classroom building.

Heyl, Bond and Miller of Allentown are the architects.

DR. ROBERTS said long-range plans are being considered for a new campus for the school. Such a project, he said, would probably take at least 15 years to reach fruition.

The Perkiomen school, which started in 1874 with 13 pupils, now has a capacity enrolment of 220 pupils. Of that number all but 20 are boarding at one of the school's five dormitories.

Dr. Roberts said eventual plans call for another dormitory that would raise the capacity enrolment to 250.

The school now accepts only boys, but until 1923 was co-educational.

Three Honored Teachers Will Leave Classrooms

Forty-one years of service to Pottstown schools and 79 years in the teaching profession will end June 17 for three retiring teachers.

Over 2000 pupils have passed through the classrooms of Mrs. Helen B. Weimer, Pottstown RD 18; Mrs. Lucille W. Williams, 232 King street, and Mrs. Anna L. Hoffman, Elverson.

Mrs. Weimer teaches the Second grade at Franklin Elementary school and will complete 32 years of teaching in Pennsylvania. Before coming to Pottstown 12 years ago, she taught at Lancaster township 21 years.

"I tried to get away from teaching twice before but I found myself going back," Mrs. Weimer said.

She also taught two years at the Wyndcroft school before going to Franklin. "I have no children of my own so that's the reason I stay in the classroom."

MRS. WEIMER'S husband, Edward, has been in Florida since August doing research and development for the Army and is presently working on the Pershing missile.

As soon as school is out Mrs. Weimer plans to leave for Florida to join her husband. They will live in Winter Park.

Mrs. Weimer says that she will leave Pottstown "with regret" and that this year some of her first pupils in Pottstown are graduating from high school.

Mrs. Weimer has been busy in Pottstown. She is a member of the First Presbyterian

June Gets Off To Nice Start

Just as promised, June got off on the right foot Wednesday with loads of sunshine, a refreshing breeze and a comfortable high mark of 77 degrees.

It will continue fair with some cloudiness this morning and today, a low of 60 early today being followed by a high of about 85 this afternoon.

Should it get as hot as predictions, it would be the warmest day in well over a month. April surprised with a preview of Summer, then May settled down to normal.

The record for today is 95, and all the record highs in June are near this mark, so it isn't unusual to find searing conditions—even this early.

Just as no month can be perfect, June's record won't last. Showers are seen late tomorrow and again Sunday or Monday.

AFTER SUNSET this evening, it will grow increasingly cloudy, and be partly cloudy and humid tomorrow, leading to the

Wash and Wear No Longer Washed; Cleaner Does Job

By GORDON GRIFFITH
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Husbands grinned and wives cringed several years ago with the advent of "wash and wear" fabrics for suits, trousers, shirts and so on.

Now the whole family is beginning to agree that the "wash and wear" gets taken to the cleaners just like the rest of the garments.

Husbands grinned because at last they had found a comfortable Summer suit which kept its shape through sweating and rainstorms, sitting in trains, and wriggling in offices waiting to see clients.

Wives cringed at the thought of the extra laundry load and the special precautions to be taken with certain wash and wear materials.

Then irate hubbys discovered the new suit was a little less crisp after each trip through the washer.

THREE POTTSTOWN dry cleaning authorities Wednesday agreed that the trend is definitely toward wash and wear clothing in the warm months.

And the wash and wear isn't being washed and worn. It is coming to the dry cleaners just as any other fabric.

Maurice Miller, of the Philadelphia Dry Cleaners; Richard F. Heylmun, of Robert-Raugh Dry Cleaners, and A. Eugene Metzler, of the Roth Dry Cleaners, responded to a Mercury survey concerning the evolution of the "wash and wear" garment from washing machines and drip drying to complete dry cleaning treatment.

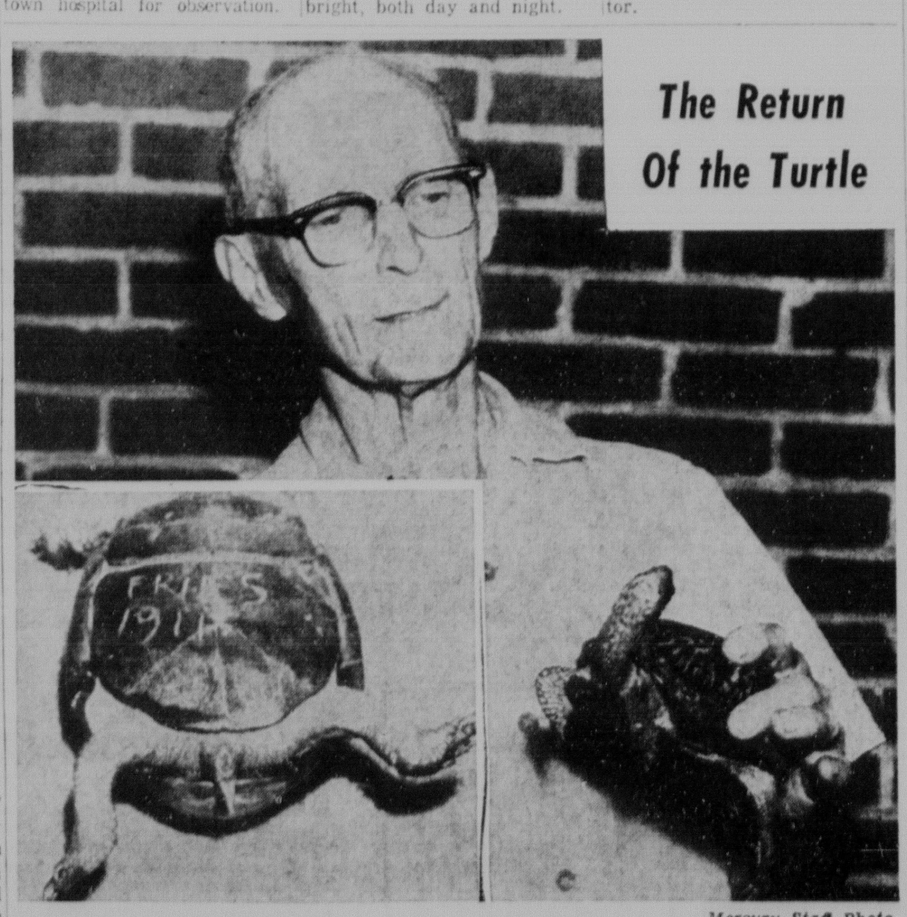

Since men are beginning to don their wash and wear garments this year, the question arose, "How many of these guys actually clean their wash and wear suits by wearing it into the shower?"

THE DRY cleaning authorities estimate from 35 to 50 per-

The Return Of the Turtle

Charles A. Fries is now a confirmed believer that truth is stranger than fiction. As a youngster in 1911 living at 863 Queen street, he carved his last name and the date on the underside of a land turtle. Tuesday the turtle reappeared in the strawberry patch in his garden at 133 East Main street, South Pottstown. "It was the same turtle," Fries reported. "The date and my name were right where I carved them." The photo shows the carving.

Everybody's Sorry About Impulse

CHICAGO (AP)—The books are closed on the Brink's, Inc., driver who, convinced the world was against him, wandered off to a bar with a $30,000 bag of money. And both parties are sorry.

Brink's is sorry, but it can't offer William Johnson, 37, his old job back. No insurance company would bond him, a spokesman said.

Johnson is sorriest of all for having given in to a wayward impulse April 8. He told Judge Alexander J. Napoli in Felony Court Wednesday: "I'm the sorriest man in the world."

Johnson explained he'd been drinking in the wee hours of April 8, had reported for work after only an hour's sleep and his supervisor "got on my nerves. Little things went wrong, and my nerves just popped."

Police found him in a saloon miles away from the armored truck he'd left unguarded. The bag of money was plumped on the next stool, minus $60.

"I couldn't tell you why I did it if you killed me on this spot," Johnson murmured.

Officials agreed to drop a felony charge of larceny against the veteran employe, in favor of a charge of petty larceny. Johnson thereupon changed his plea from innocent to guilty.

He received two years' probation.

Couple Sorry For Haste

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Russ Tamblyn, who married British showgirl Elizabeth Kempton after a one-day courtship a month ago, said Wednesday they're both sorry they acted so hastily.

They became acquainted in England two years ago, but did not see each other again until they met and married in Las Vegas, Nev., last May 1.

Tamblyn said he and his bride are still living under the same roof at his beach house, "but we probably will separate. Maybe we will seek an annulment."

"It's quite true," said his bride. "Probably an annulment or something."

By "something" did she mean divorce?

"That's right. I think probably that—a divorce.

Myrna Loy Given 'Quickie' Divorce

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Red-haired, freckle-faced Myrna Loy, well known to screen audiences for her roles as the perfect wife, ended her fourth off-screen marriage in neighboring Juarez, Mexico.

She charged incompatability.

Mother Fears Daughter Has Been Harmed

CANNES (AP)—Patricia Murphy Wallace Vanderbilt said Wednesday she fears some harm has come to her 19-year-old daughter, Nanette Wallace, missing since Saturday night.

"If she had just gone on a lark, I should think she would have phoned me by now," Mrs. Vanderbilt told a reporter.

A small, pretty blonde, Nanette was last seen walking out of her hotel for a date with a boy friend.

"She only had the clothes she was wearing—a blue knit suit and a blue coat—and about 1,000 francs," Mrs. Vanderbilt said.

The divorced fifth wife of Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., said Nanette had recently been corresponding with a young French actor she met at the Cannes Film Festival and that just before she disappeared she expressed the desire to go to Paris to see him.

Nanette may have ridden to Paris with two American soldiers she met here, her mother said.

Police here and in Paris so far have not turned up the daughter or the actor.

Mrs. Vanderbilt and Nanette have been vacationing on the Riviera.

Mrs. Vanderbilt identified the French actor her daughter had met as Daniel Laurent.

Laurent said in Paris Wednesday night Nanette had stopped by his hotel Monday but that he was out and did not see her. He said she left a note telling him she was going to Luxembourg to change her passport and that she planned to return to Paris Thursday night.

'Low Blow' Says Louis Of Cuba Link Protests

NEW YORK (AP) —Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis said Wednesday he's been struck a low blow because of his public relations connection with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro. He added he's ready to bow out of the deal.

"Never in my career as a public figure, in or out of the ring, has anything grieved me more than the conclusions many people have drawn from my association with the Cuban government," Louis told a press conference.

Louis has a fourth interest in the Negro public relations firm of Louis, Rowe, Fisher, Lockhart Enterprises, Inc. It has signed a $287,000-a-year contract with the Cuban Tourist Commission to promote Negro travel to the island.

A spokesman for the firm said Louis is dropping out if the account is retained.

"Anything we ever did in connection with this account always cleared with the American Embassy in Havana and had its sanction," Louis told reporters. "The job was completely non political and in no way was I or my friends personally connected with Castro."

Louis said he had been publicly accused of selling out to Castro for a price.

"I felt that this was a low blow," Louis continued. "Since most of the money I earned from this or any other deal goes toward the adjustment of my income tax debt, you can see the unfairness of this charge.

"If there is any hint, no matter how slight, that I am doing anything that does not fit in with the best interests of my country, I must do something about it."

Benedict, Hubby Plan Vacation

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Heiress Gamble Benedict and her husband appeared at the county courthouse Wednesday to seek a new passport. Gamble told reporters they are planning a two-month European vacation.

The 20-year-old heiress to the Remington typewriter fortune made the headlines earlier this year when she turned up in Paris with her family chauffeur, Andre Porumbeanu, vowing her love for him. The couple later was secretly married in North Carolina April 6.

Recently, Porumbeanu quit his job as press agent for a Florida hotel, and Gamble announced that she was pregnant.

Gamble said in a court affidavit Wednesday that her brother, Douglas, forcibly took her passport when she was returning from Paris in January.

"When I asked my lawyers to get it from him, he declared at first it was torn up, then thrown out by the maid, and then he declared he had merely lost it and had no idea where it was."

Asst. Court Clerk Frank J. Quinlan assured Gamble that a new passport would probably be in her hands within two weeks.

Where to wash venetian blinds? Use the children's plastic wading pool filled with soap or detergent suds and water.

Immerse the blinds, let them soak for a few moments, then go over each slat with a sponge or cloth. Next, hang the blinds over the clothesline, rinse with the hose, and allow to dry.

Congressmen's Expense Accounts Will Open for Public Inspection

WASHINGTON (AP) —Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) said Wednesday the expense account records of congressmen's spending from House funds will be open to public inspecton as soon as arrangements can be made for their supervised examination.

At the moment these records are not available, by order of House clerk Ralph R. Roberts following publication of statements that dozens of expense account vouchers have been altered or amended in recent years.

Rayburn said Roberts' order will stand for the present, but the speaker indicated the ban on checking the vouchers may be lifted in a few days, perhaps Thursday. An aide indicated there will be conditions requiring that they not be photographed or physically removed from the clerk's custody.

Roberts told newsmen "I have the entire matter under advisement."

The matter broke into the open with the publication of a copyrighted article in the Knight newspapers relating incidents of alteration of vouchers.

The story said receipts supporting the expense accounts were changed in some instances to show different expenditures than had first been listed.

Accordingly, it said some congressmen "spent tax dollars on trips to resort areas, or night clubbing and tipping aboard luxury liners."

Rep. Omar Burleson (D-Tex), chairman of the House Administration Committee, said members discussed the situation informally Wednesday "and agreed there should be, a tightening up, but there was no formal decision or action."

Burleson was quoted in the original article as having said he was not aware defaced hotel bills or bar bills and "there have been a lot of loose practices. Such charges are certainly not proper."

House members traveling on committee business get a $12 a day allowance for which they do not have to make any accounting. Expenses above $12 require bills and receipts to be submitted. Only travel and hotel expenses and meals are to be charged to the government.

One congressman mentioned as an example was Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark), whose hotel bill at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel in Honolulu bore the handwritten word "food" in parentheses after items listed as "bar" charges.

Harris said the hotel had a sort of smorgasbord restaurant called the Bar Surf, just off the beach. All the bar charges he turned in on his expense account, he said, were for food from this eating place.

He added that as chairman of the House Commerce Committee he had an iron clad rule "that absolutely no liquor bills are to be paid by the government."

Angrily, Harris said: "All this innuendo, in my opinion, can be characterized as nothing but a smear."

Tension Rises In Belgian Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (AP)—Airlines put on extra planes Wednesday to fly more and more Europeans from the Congo. Tension is rising to near panic among whites with the approach of independence.

Europeans are hastily packing off their wives and children in the wake of stepped-up antiwhite threats published by African newspapers.

Chief concern is for the white women. African propagandists are boasting they will be "ours" after independence June 30. The newspaper of one native nationalist movement said soon it would no longer be a crime for Africans to rape white women. European women also have been receiving letters from Negroes seeking mistresses after independence.

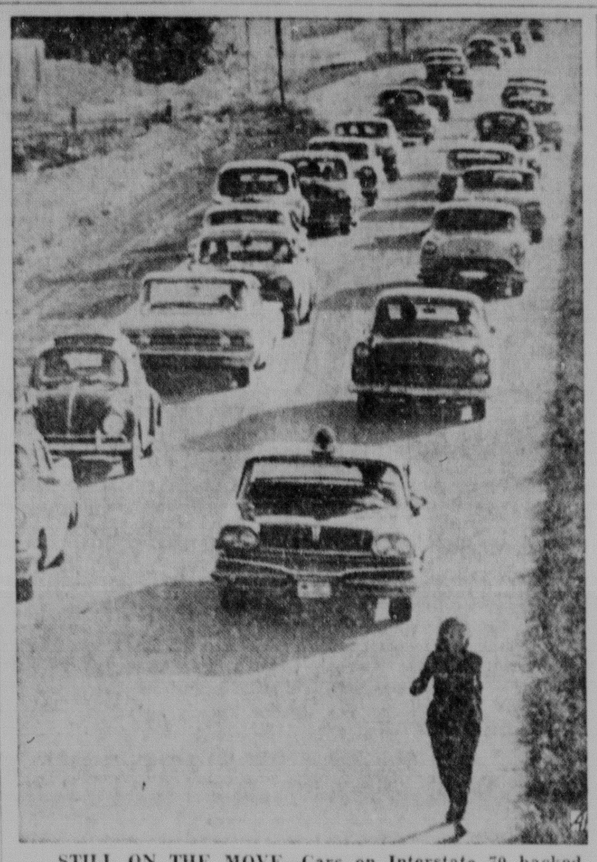

Near Stanleyville, Africans have circulated lists of whites "invited" to leave before independence day or else be mistreated.

In copper-rich Katanga Province, a weekly recently published three lists of names: Europeans ordered to leave at once, those who had to leave before June 30 and those allowed to stay afterward.

In several centers, Europeans have been visited by Congolese who explained politely that the house would be theirs after June 30—and could they look inside please?

Congo has been going through parliamentary elections the last few weeks, in some cases with intertribal violence. A Congo government is due to be appointed June 20. Belgian civil servants are scheduled to remain in the Congo at least for some time.

Belgium has been sending reinforcements of European troops to its military bases in the Congo and relies on a force of about 25,000 well-trained and so far faithful Africans to maintain order. They are commanded by Europeans.

STILL ON THE MOVE—Cars on Interstate 70 backed up behind Dr. Barbara Moore, British vegetarian, walking outside Topeka, Kan. Dr. Moore, who is walking across the United States, originally planned to be in New York on June 10 but now admits she will be late.

Adlai Stevenson Becomes Poetic

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai Stevenson got off a verse Wednesday about eggheads and meatheads.

Stevenson, who is counted among the eggheads in the intellectual sense of the term, read the rhyme at the convention of the Textile Workers Union. He drew his inspiration from Union President William Pollock, who criticized the Eisenhower administration Monday and said the egghead era is over, the nation is in the meathead period. Taking it from there, Stevenson said:

"Egghead is cracked, meathead is sacked.

"It's time to get down to some matters of fact."

The way to gain a good reputation is to endeavor to be what you desire to appear.—(Socrates)

When the Monkeys Are Out!

WHEN we were kids—and it was after the demise of the cigarstore Indian and the horse-drawn carriage, despite what our children may think—this was a pretty exciting time of year.

It still is.

In just two weeks, Pottstown area schools throw open their doors for Summer vacation.

When we were kids, the cry was: "School's out! School's out! Teacher's let the monkeys out!"

Wouldn't be a bit surprised if kids today were saying the same darn thing!

Time for school to let out for Summer—a time when kids can indulge in what one writer refers to as "the birthright of every child": having fun.

The Summer months will be jampacked with unbelievable amounts of fun—swimming, walking, playing, biking, climbing, running, jumping, and, for some of the older boys and girls driving a car.

Summer, for kids, is the roaming season. It's a time of freedom.

It's also a time of tragedy—tragedy from accidents. The big killer in June-July-August to schoolage children is drownings.

No exact figures are available on what injuries befall children in Summer. But cuts and bruises are probably high on the list.

To try to list even a fraction of the safety tips that come to mind to prevent summertime accidents and injuries would be an impossible task, and would fill much more space than we have here.

Because drownings, in all probability, will be the No. 1 death-dealer to our children during the next few months, we think a few words of advice on that subject are warranted here.

Children should, naturally, be in condition to swim. They should never swim alone. They should be impressed with these cautions:

- Swim only at guarded beaches.
- Wait a while after eating before you swim.
- Don't swim when you're heated and tired.
- Showing off in the water, ducking other swimmers, and crying "wolf" are never done by boys and girls who think before they act.
- Be just as cautious in a boat or walking along a river bank as when swimming. Lots of children drown each year from slipping, falling or leaping into the water.

Maybe you believe your children will think you're a fuddy-duddy if you try to give them such advice. We think it all depends on how you give the advice.

If you can get across the point that you only want them to enjoy their birthright—but that they can't enjoy life very well from a wheelchair . . . or a grave—you're on the right track, in our opinion.

When all's said and done, it's actually up to us parents to make sure our sons and daughters keep out of danger this Summer.

Children actually aren't old enough to be completely responsible for their actions.

Any day now, the cry will go up: "Teacher's let the monkeys out!"

It's our responsibility to keep those lovable monkeys safe to enjoy life.

Where Crime Doesn't Pay

BANDITRY can be controlled—by aggressive, determined cooperation between the law enforcement authorities and interested enterprises.

If you doubt that, a remarkable record that has been set in Philadelphia may change your view.

Eleven years ago a team of bandits made a career of holding up the managers of a chain system, American Stores. They pulled 17 jobs in a row. In the last, a police officer was shot and killed.

That shot marked the beginning of a nonstop counter-offensive by the store organization and local law enforcement bodies, notably the Philadelphia Police Department. Since the offensive started, there have been 94 holdups—and every participant, save for two murder defendants yet to be tried, has been sentenced to prison! There hasn't been a single acquittal. The prison terms meted out amounted to a total minimum of 361 years and three months and to a total maximum of 996 years and 11 months.

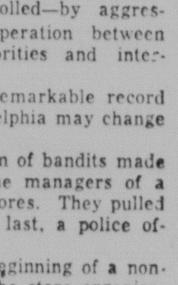

As a result of that record, there have been no holdups in the past two years. The crooks have learned that, in this case, crime doesn't pay. And what has been accomplished in Philadelphia can be duplicated in Pottstown and everywhere through the same kind of cooperation.

PUNKIN CORNERS,

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where since 1952 the annual average of farm income has dropped from $14.4 billion to $11 billion. Today's farmer, apparently, might still be raising bumper crops, but not of money.

The Hungarian telephone service now helps put kids to sleep by reading 'em fairy stories over the phone at bedtime. Long distance—from the Land of Nod?

And say: A New York allergy expert, according to a news item, suggests the best way to prevent ivy poisoning is to stay clear of the stuff. THIS is news?

Law Unenforcement Accident Cause?

Arrests Show Law Disregard

To the Editor: While the Pottstown area was setting a bloody record for traffic deaths in May, I failed to hear a single law enforcement agent try to explain off the death toll.

Isn't it terrible that there were so many deaths on Route 83? Then, all of a sudden, police patrol the area, and what happens? There are 48 arrests, The Mercury says, in a week.

There are arrests for speeding. The list includes driver without a license. Another driving to the left of the center line. How long has this been going on?

Murder is cheap here. Usually the law violator goes off free. Just accidents!

What we need is stricter enforcement, and stiffer penalities. But I doubt if any legislative body will make penalties stiffer. They might lose a vote thereby. There is no apparent concern for the loss of a voter. There's more concern about putting a parking tag on an auto than a child's safety on the street. Is there any wonder there's no respect for the law here?

After you observe the professional drivers disregard the traffic laws in Pottstown—trucks going 60 miles an hour on High street, taxi drivers changing lanes without signaling, trucks being driven on the wrong side of the street—all this lets you know that here is a place where anything goes.

Unmarked patrol cars and radar are unfair, according to the bleeding hearts. They will next cry for red hats on detectives so the crooks won't be caught unawares.

We people who are afraid to drive want law enforcement, but we won't get it as long as policemen are concentrated on High street where they can parade their uniforms before the ogling young girls.

One Respected Flag

To the Editor: Hey, Mr. Respect ("How Man Will Doff Hats to Flag?" Readers Say, May 30) I saw one man at Hanover and King streets take off his hat when the Flag passed by Memorial Day. Eight others didn't.

P.S.—I didn't know so many men wore hats.

Pottstown PICKEREL

Payola, or Just Nuts?

To the Editor: Payola. What a nice new name for an old practice.

Once upon a time the practice was called extortion.

Now those who get caught get off lightly because they call it payola.

Yet, did this expose clear up the mess?

The American public may be going nuts, because the radio keeps blaring those top ten that sound like savage music to sooth the savage beast.

It makes me wonder if payola isn't still around. Payola sounds better than extortion, but not merely so nice as error in judgement, evidence of friendship, rewarded on his merit, etc. Seems to avoid criminal indictment too. We sure lives and learns.

Pottstown RD MENTAL CASE

Off to Safety

To the Editor: I wonder how many parents of 1960 graduates are going to buy autos for them for graduation presents.

If the number's high, I'm going to move to a nice little South Sea isle where the wheel hasn't even been invented.

Boyertown RUNNING SCARED

To the Editor: This is the second time Nikita Khrushchev has stimulated us into the world of reality.

Once when he proved that science is necessary for progress and survival, and now when he demonstrated that "no man is worthy of unlimited reliance, etc."

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

OSCAR L., age 11, was riding his bicycle around the villege where we lived, accompanied by two pals.

They spied an apple tree in the back yard of a certain home. Parking their bikes, they all invaded the yard, climbed the tree and shook many of the apples.

The irate housewife rushed out and captured Oscar's bike, though he and his two companions got away. She then held the bicycle as a hostage.

Oscar didn't show up at the evening meal, so his father started searching for him. Ultimately, he found the bicycle and was told by the housewife why she had captured it.

When Oscar was finally found, scared and hiding, his father gave him a tongue lashing. He then told him that he had to go to jail.

OSCAR was scared to death. His face was as white as a sheet. Tears were ready to brim over.

His father sternly marched him into the house and upstairs. He made Oscar pack his suitcase for their trip to the jail at the county seat a dozen miles away.

His father told Oscar to kiss his mother goodbye and bid farewell to his brothers and sisters.

It was a terrifying event to Oscar, who had never been away from home, even to visit relatives, let alone a fearsome jail

Then Oscar and his father got into the car. They drove a few miles into the country. The father finally stopped the car, and ordered Oscar to bring him a switch.

Then the father switched Oscar thoroughly, but told him he had changed his mind about the jail and would take him back home, instead.

AFTER THEY reached home, the father made Oscar go to the woman from whom he had taken the apples. Oscar had to apologize and pay her $1 out of his bank. But the woman graciously refused the money.

Oscar was then forbidden to leave the home yard or ride his bicycle except after his father returned home at night and gave him express permission.

I mention this case because punishment of children should be a fair and correct procedrue.

Oscar did a wrong. In our courts of law, certain fixed punishments are set for crimes of various degrees. But after the punishment is administered by the state, the victim is a free man and is legally supposed to have acquitted himself.

If Oscar had been forced to pay the $1 for the apples, that should have been sufficient punishment, beyond possibly a parental verbal censure.

If he was whipped with the switch, that should have equared accounts. Or the trip to jail should have been sufficient. Or the canceling of his play privileges and the chance to ride his bike.

But it isn't fair to impose all four of these punishments on the child. His father has overdone the matter, and especially so in regard to the undue frightening of the boy with the threat.

Inside Television

By EVE STARR

STARR REPORT: Casey Shawhan, the likeable Irishman who heads up NBC's press relations department in Hollywood, finds himself on the horns of a painful dilemma these days.

As an NBC executive, he is duty bound to attend the Emmy awards telecast, set for 7 p. m., Pacific coast time, June 20. As an avid sports fan, he wants to attend the theater telecast of the Johansson Patterson heavyweight championship fight, scheduled for 7 p. m., Pacific coast time, June 20.

In a desperate attempt to rationalize himself into a solution of the problem, he has obtained a batch of tickets for the fight telecast at the Hollywood Pantages theater and has invited a group of TV columnists and editors to a 6 p. m. stag dinner before the fight.

He is thus assuaging his conscience by pointing out that he is doing the columnists a favor by making the fight telecast available to them. This tack has backfired to a certain extent, however, because the columnits have been told by their editors that they are to cover the Emmy telecast and that the fight should properly be left to the sports columnists.

TV COLUMNISTS are not quite that pliable, however. Most of them are fight fans and they want to see the fight. The result has been something that can only be called Casey's Compromise.

Casey has argued—and it is a telling argument—that this particular fight can't last more than five rounds, or a total of 19 minutes.

After all, the first Johansson Patterson fight lasted only three rounds. The instant the fight is over, Casey plans to load his guests into cars and whisk them out to NBC's Burbank studios, only 7 minutes away. This means they will miss only half an hour of the 90-minute telecast—and they will be able to pick up the missed half hour during the repeat telecast at 10 p. m.

NOT HAVING been invited to this strictly stag affair, I naturally consider it an extremely high-handed way of doing business and not at all in accord with the principles of network press relations.

Here's an interesting sidelight. Fifteen years ago Joe Louis met Billy Conn, a Pittsburgh boy, for the heavyweight title. Pittsburgh was in an uproar, over both Conn and the then contending Pittsburgh Pirates, who had a game scheduled the night of the fight.

When the fight started (in New York), the game halted, the baseball players sat down on the grass, the public address system was turned on—and the crowd and the players listened to the radio broadcast of the fight. It marked the only time in baseball history that a major league game has been interrupted for anything other than rain or darkness.

Interpreting The News

To These 3 Men Grief Is Familiar

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

"Next case." The admission board member was tired, but his voice was kind.

In that same little room, its green-painted walls bare except for a single calendar, he and his two colleagues at the unadorned table had been through the same routine for years, day after day, many thousands of times.

A grey-haired woman shuffled nervously into the room and took one of the straight-backed chairs facing the three officials. It was their job to probe her case and classify her status as a refugee from communism.

Her voice quivering, she blurted out her story.

Frau G. was 67, a widow, who had frequently traveled back and forth from her home in Communist-ruled East Berlin to free West Berlin, to look after a dying sister.

"I was so much in the West sector the Vopos—Volkspolizei, or Communist people's police—denounced me. There were police in front of my apartment. I know why they denounced me. One of them wanted my apartment."

The board listened patiently, occasionally trying to soothe her while they asked the questions required for the fixed routine. Then they asked her to step out of the room for a moment while they discussed her case. There was no question but that she would be accepted as a refugee. But she didn't know that. There was fear in her eyes.

The board exchanged a few remarks.

Called in again, she stood nervously like a defendant in court. They told her she was accepted. She wept uncontrollably.

The stolid burghers of middle-class Marienfelde Allee are accustomed to the sight of tears. Hundreds daily, by one means or another make their way to the big block of barracks-like buildings which house refugees in the transitional period of their flight from East to West.

The admission board watches a whole spectrum of tragedy.

There is a doctor whose younger son was barred from secondary school because the elder son fled communism.

There is a farmer whose land, worked for years by his family, suddenly was seized and collectivized.

There is a university student who had expressed his ideas too clearly; a teacher who could no longer stomach conformity; lawyers, doctors, engineers. There are just ordinary people who could take the mental grief no longer.

Often it's a case of economics—people looking for better jobs in the West. Then there is fear of prison—there are 10,000 political prisoners behind bars in East Germany.

The Communists persist in interfering in the daily lives of every soul under their control. East Germans, aware of how their brethren live in the West, must take part in all manner of masquerades.

ITEM—An item appeared in the May 27, 1864 issue of the Clarion (Pa.) Independent Banner. It was headed "A Soldier's Letter," and the preface said: "The following beautiful and touching letter was written to a little acquaintance of ours in Lewistown, Pa., and we thought it might do good to publish it. Other little patriotic girls may thus be stimulated to do something for the benefit of our brave soldiers." Reading this in the browned-by-age newspaper, George M. Weber, 265 King street, learned something about his grandmother, Betty Shull. For, at the age of seven or eight, Betty Shull sent needles to union soldiers, a requisite in those days. In return, she received a letter from a Maryland volunteer, and the newspaper publisher thought it good enough to publish. . .

★ THE LETTER said the soldier "was musing of home, as it was in the May day of life, when peace, the kind angel hovered over our beloved land" . . . Then the soldier thanked her for her kindness "in knowing your little mite had reached the hands of a soldier." He praised the child for visiting hospitals in Philadelphia. "My advice," he said, "is to go whenever you have the opportunity, for although your arm may be too weak to assist the many suffering brethren in the manner which older hands can do, your little hands can smooth the pillow for some fevered brow to rest upon." . . . GIVE AWAY DEP'T—Two cats, Mrs. Daniel Mayberry, Pottstown RD 20, FA 3-6490. . . Half load of 2 to 3-inch stones, Mrs. Lee Adams, 618 Willow st., FA 3-3519.

Your Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

HOW OFTEN should you wash your hair?

Just recently I saw a report from one health group which recommended that proper care of the hair involves washing it often enough to keep it clean. That's logical, all right, but just often is enough?

This particular report recommends washing once in two weeks for short hair and once in three weeks for long hair.

A previous report by another group stated, "The proper and medically approved time to give yourself a shampoo is when your hair gets dirty."

This report added:

"If your particular type of hair looks its best with a once-a-week shampoo, then well and good. If it needs washing more often, don't hesitate to wash it every few days."

Many women, I am sure, wash their hair about twice each week.

Dandruff is a common problem among persons who fail to wash and rince their hair thoroughly and frequently. And dandruff can be more than a nuisance.

In a recent article in the Pennsylvania Medical Journal, Dr. James S. Jordan of Scranton reported that studies by ophthalmologists (eye specialists) indicate that the same bacteria cells which cause dandruff can cause blepharitis.

This is a condition in which whitish scales, similar to dandruff, collect around the roots of the eyelashes.

The bacteria apparently spread from the scalp to the eyes.

Hospital studies of patients with such eye trouble revealed that they had shampooed their hair only once a month at the most.

Dr. Jordan suggests that persons bothered by sore eyelids, as well as by dandruff, should shampoo their scalps twice a week for at least a month to correct the conditions.

Lonely Woman Gives Husband Rat Poison

LEWIS, Del., (AP) — A 35 year old woman put poison in her husband's soup so he'd become ill and she could care for him. Instead the dosage of cyanide killed him, State police reported.

Mrs. Margaret H. Fisher of Quakertown, Del., was admitted to Delaware State hospital at nearby Farmhurst in a highly emotional state. Charges against her were held open pending her discharge.

The husband, Ernest Fisher, 50, died Wednesday night, a half hour after he was admitted to Beebe hospital here.

State Police Lt. Ralph I. Richardson Jr., said the poisoning apparently wasn't deliberate.

"She said she was lonely," Richardsan asserted, "and wanted her husband to need her. She believed he would need her care if she made him sick with the rat poison."

Fisher, who worked in a fish processing plant, is survived by his widow, his mother, four brothers and three sisters.

TREE WRECKS CENSUS

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A falling palm tree has raised some problems in Thailand's first general census since 1947. The tree collapsed in a storm at Suranthai Monday. It wrecked the home of Suranthai's head census taker. Census papers were blown away and damaged.

Employes Plan To Buy Firm

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Faced with the possible loss of their jobs because the company they work for plans to move to the South, the employes proposed a radical plan—to buy the firm themselves.

The employes of the Horsman Dolls Inc. voted to use their $270,000 union welfare fund towards the purchase and pledged another $230,000 with only a third of the employes canvassed. They asked each of the 1,000 employes for a pledge of $500 at a mass meeting on the proposal to buy the company.

Horsman Dolls, one of the largest doll manufacturers in the country, was purchased by Botany Industries Inc. of Passaic in 1957 for four million dollars over an eight-year period.

Under the plan to buy control of the company, the employes must raise $300,000 plus their welfare fund. The balance will be provided by a "huge loan" from a Trenton bank. The present management will continue.

The union would not disclose the amount of the offer to Botany Industries, except to say that it is "in excess of one million dollars."

Botany had planned to move Horsman Dolls to a leased plant at Columbia, S.C., July 1.

The union, the International Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, said Botany wanted to move because Horsman was not as profitable as some other subsidiaries.

Investors Appear to Heed Experts Advising Caution

By JACK LEFLER
(AP) Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—With space age stocks doing virtually all of the spiraling and the rest of the stock market marking time, Wall Street experts are advising caution and investors seem to be heeding.

"While the market has acted fairly well since early March," said the Alexander Hamilton Institute, "we believe there is still considerable confusion and continue to suggest an attitude of caution in investment matters."

The institute added that speculative activity and high volume in defense stocks are not convincing as to fundamental strength in the market.

A. M. Kidder & Co. agreed that the market hasn't been unsatisfactory "in the light of predicted further letdowns in steel and copper lines and widespread caution as to the general outlook for business."

The investment firm observed that so far the hesitant attitude hasn't been changed significantly by the possibility that failure of the summit talks will result in a substantial increase in defense spending.

Kidder looks for further advances in the market in the near future although it said buying may continue to be cautious until the business outlook for the second half of the year is brought into sharper focus.

Bache & Co. notes that the inability of the Dow Jones industrial and railroad averages to move in unison often precedes a period of general irregularity.

"The possibility of this occurring," it says, "is also enhanced by the frequent appearance during the past three weeks of another form of divergence—a rise by the industrial average accompanied on the same day by more declines than advances.

Shearson, Hammill & Co. comments that although first quarter earnings of most building materials producers were below last year's unusually good initial quarter, full year results of the better situated companies should be highly satisfactory.

Wash and Wear No Longer Washed; Cleaner Does Job

cent of the men's Summer clothes coming to the dry cleaner are wash and wear duds.

They have no way of knowing how many wash and wear clothes remain at home and go through the washer, but they know more wash and wear clothing is coming to the cleaners each day.

Here are the reasons given for the trend that is making "wash and wear" a worn out advertising term.

It is possible to get the suit clean with a thorough washing, but eventually—if not immediately—Mrs. Housewife will find she has to touch up the creases.

AND, "NO offense to housewives," said Metzler, "it takes a little more equipment and dexterity than most wives have to properly shape these sack jackets."

Metzler wrapped up the situation with, "They're just beginning to find that wash and wear is not quite that simple."

Miller made the observation which indicates a great deal of wash and wear clothing comes to the cleaners.

"Frankly, we haven't noticed much change in recent years in the amount of suit work we get in the Summer," he said.

THIS WOULD seem to show that although men are replacing other fabrics with wash and wear materials, they are still sending the new material to the cleaners.

Otherwise, Summer suit cleaning by cleaning firms would drop off.

Women used to wash and iron seersucker clothing at home, Miller explained, but it was cotton. Then along came "wash and wear" in all its various brand names.

The wife or mother tried washing these garments in the machine, then hanging them to dry and regain their shape. It worked several times.

THEN PEOPLE started to discover certain things. Miller reminded all brands of wash and wear don't have the same characteristics, but here are some of the discoveries:

Wash and wear is a plastic material, and soap and water will not take grease out of it. Mrs. Housewife then tried to "spot" the fabric with an oil or cleaner to remove stains, and found the marks just "melted" and spread out, leaving a ring in the fiber.

Many wash and wear suits have the seams sewn with cotton thread, which shrinks while the fabric remains stable when washed in water. Consequently the cloth along the seams "puckers," and sometime ironing won't straighten it.

Then there is the canvas or sizing inside the wash and wear suit which is the "shape." It straightens out when washed and "crumples up," as Miller put it.

THIS ADDS up to the basic fact that "wash and wear clothes are at the cleaners because they just don't respond to home care," said Miller.

Miller said about 15 percent of shirts are wash and wear, and "they don't look crisp when you wash them . . . it looks like you're perpetually wearing yesterday's shirt."

Heylmun said, "Fifty percent of the clothes we get here can be washed at home." Why does the cleaner get them?

"People are fussy about clothes for the most part and won't rely on a washing machine," he explained.

"When a man's suit is washed at home — while it is supposed to be wash and wear — it is hung out, like directed, and it still has creases.

"Then it gets 'touched up' and it still isn't presentable. I guess it is all right for a traveling salesman, but most of the rest want a top notch job," Heylmun said.

HE REMARKED that rather than cut into the dry cleaning work, wash and wear has given a big boost to Summer business.

Metzler said advertisers are endorsing a sloppy appearance with their "wash and wear" campaigns.

"But in defense, it is much more convenient for a traveling salesman who can slide by with just washing," he said.

The cleaner-done work gives the material a crispness and neatness that drip-dry can's accomplish, said Metzler.

METZLER PREDICTED, "As Mrs. Housewife does the work, it will eventually find its way into the cleaner. She isn't saving that much, and she'll get rid of a lot of headaches."

So although the men are wearing wash and wear, the women have to clean it — and tender it and pore over how to reshape it after a stiff turn in the washer.

So "wash and wear" is going to the cleaners, and both man and wife are happier.

Chess Game Winds Up With Homicide Charge

NEW YORK (AP)—Chumley's, a famed Greenwich Village literary haunt, was almost deserted Wednesday when a husky seaman walked in.

Three men were hunched over a game board at one end of the bar. The open fireplace was cold and no one was browsing at the shelf of books—all written by Chumley patrons.

The sailor suddenly broke the silence with: "I can whip any man in the house."

At other bars, this challenge means trouble. But at Chumley's it usually means only one thing—chess.

For 32 years, writers, newspapermen, editors and poets—chess players all—have congregated at the tavern for a friendly game or two.

The bartender, Ray Guillano, 61 averages 10 games a night. He was playing Loren Disney, 54, a free-lance reporter, when the seaman entered. Clinton Curtis, 43, a free-lance book editor, looked on.

"I'll play for any amount," shouted Michael George, 34, a chess-playing merchant seaman from the tanker Trimbles Ford, docked at Elizabeth, N. J. "For $10, $100, or $200."

Disney declined to bet the sailor but he accepted the challenge —and beat him.

Then Curtis and George got into an argument, with Curtis taking a swing at the sailor, police said. George, apparently forgetting he was holding a glass of beer, swung back. The glass shattered and cut Curtis' jugular vein.

He was dead when the ambulance arrived.

"It was just crazy," said Disney. "There we were, just playing chess. And then this guy walks in wanting to play for money. No one, anyway, plays chess for $200. Not at Chumley's."

George was arraigned on a homicide charge and held without bail for a June 7 hearing.

June Gets Off To Nice Start

showers.

Temperatures through Monday will be near to a little above normal, cooling off Saturday and growing warmer again Sunday and Monday.

The normal temperatures here this time of year are between 59 and 79, which is practically what it was Wednesday.

The rain will average about a half inch in all totaling tomorrow night's fall and the recurring showers Sunday and Monday.

According to the U. S. Weather Bureau's long range forecast for June, this month should turn out to be something like May—slightly cooler than normal and wet.

The weather bureau predicted: "Temperatures to average slightly below seasonal normals in the Middle Atlantic States.

"Precipitation is expected to exceed normal in the Middle and North Atlantic states."

Boy, 14, Kills His Mother

NEW YORK (AP)—A 10-year-old boy told police Wednesday his older brother stabbed and killed their mother in their Brooklyn apartment because she was "too strict."

Joseph Troyli told detectives that when he came home from school Tuesday he found his brother, Dominick, 14, sharpening a hunting knife.

"I'm going to kill Mommy," Dominick was quoted as saying.

When the mother, Patricia Troyli, 29, returned home from work about 9 p.m., an argument began over a piggy bank that had been broken open.

Joseph said Dominick stabbed his mother in the stomach and then prevented him from going for help. The boys then fled.

Mrs. Troyli was found by her husband, Albert, 50, a Negro cab driver, Mrs. Troyli was white. They had been married about three years.

The boys returned to their schools Wednesday after hiding out all night. Officers picked up Joseph at his fifth-grade class but Dominick had disappeared from Shallow Junior High School when they arrived.

Joseph and Dominick are Mrs. Troyli's sons by a previous marriage.

Western Union Contract Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiators for Western Union and the Commercial Telegraphers Union reached agreement Wednesday on a new two-year labor contract valued at more than 20 cents an hour.

The agreement, averting a possible strike, provides for a 10-cent-an-hour raise effective Wednesday and a 5-cent hourly raise effective June 1, 1961. Messengers will get only one raise of 5 cents effective Thursday.

The contract changes, which the company estimated will cost it about 35 million dollars, also include a new company-paid hospital-medical-surgical plan, increased group life insurance, four-week vacations after 25 instead of 30 years service, job classification adjustments, and higher vehicle allowances.

The union had asked for a 25-cent hourly raise and an improved pension plan, a demand dropped in the settlement. Wages have been averaging $2.10 an hour.

The agreement applies to about 30,000 employes, all those outside the New York area where another union represents employes.

CONTAGIOUS ILLNESS

In case of contageous illness in the household, use very hot water (170 to 180 degrees Fahrenheit) and soap or detergent suds for washing dishes and silverware.

Let the dishes soak in the solution until cool. Then wash as usual in fresh water and suds, rinse with boiling water, and drain dry.

House of Dior Defeats France

PARIS (AP)—The high fashion House of Dior has emerged a clear winner in a bout with French bureaucracy.

The government social security division tried to collect a year's back taxes from the famed fashion house and wound up paying damages and apologizing to the incensed management.

It started a year ago when an investigator decided Dior's had not paid its 1954 social security levy for its employes.

Social security fired off a bill for the equivalent of $1,200 and a demand for immediate payment.

Dior replied that it had paid the taxes and cited the check number.

Back came the government with a warning that if the taxes weren't paid forthwith it would go to court.

Dior answered with another report that it had paid the taxes and this time included a photostat of the canceled check.

Social security replied in the form of a process server.

If that's the way they want it, we'll sue, the House of Dior decided.

Social security then decided it had erred and offered to forget the whole thing.

The fashion house refused to drop the matter. It discovered that not only had it paid its taxes, but had paid $200 too much.

It asked for $2,000 damages and costs.

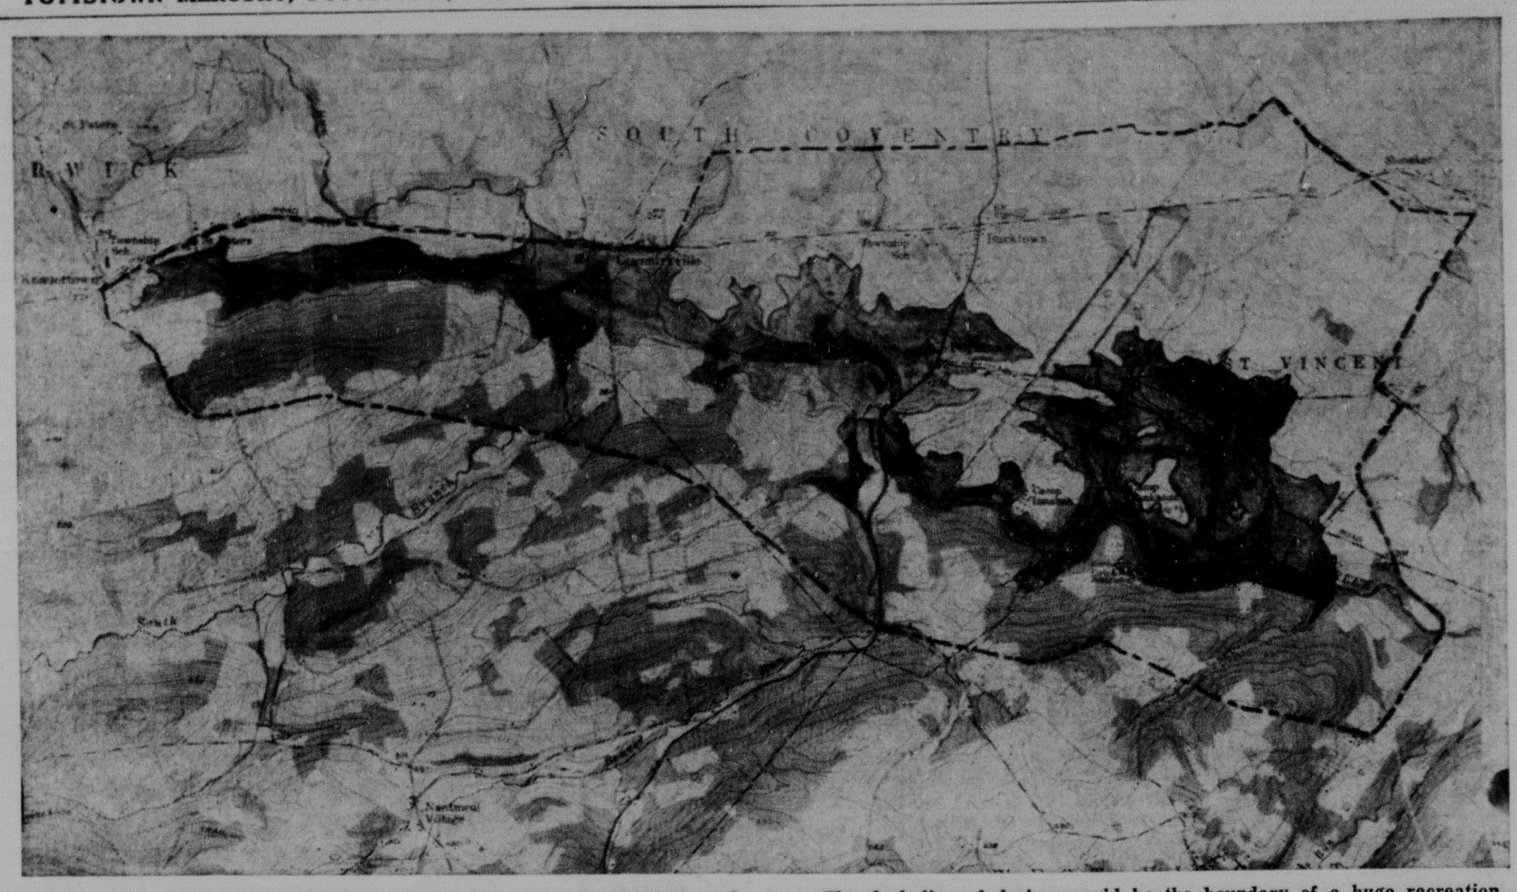

A court agreed Tuesday with the House of Dior and commented that the social security division "had committed a grave fault which a simple reading of its correspondance could have prevented."

2 Teen-age Theft Suspects Committed

Two Pottstown teen-agers whom police say stole a car from the parking lot at the Doehler-Jarvis division of the National Lead company were committed to Montgomery hall, Norristown, Wednesday morning.

The youths—Garrison Shawell, 17, of 191½ North Warren street and Ronald Bauer, 15, of 556 Beech street—were arrested late Tuesday night after a chase during which four shots were fired by Motor Patrolman Lorin Leuthold.

They'll receive a hearing before Peter Frascino, county juvenile officer, at a time still to be determined.

WATER LOGGED FUTURE—This map shows the proposed lake and park tentatively planned for the French Creek valley by the U.S. Army Engineers as part of a comprehensive plan for power, water supply, flood control and recreation in the entire Delaware River basin.

The 189 foot high dam would be built at the eastern terminus of the lake (right), and water would back up to Knauertown (left), covering the south side of Coventryville and most of Pughtown. Route 100 would have to be rerouted from just south of Bucktown to a point several miles south of Pughtown.

The dark line of dashes would be the boundary of a huge recreation area and park, and all land inside this boundary would be taken over by the State, with the exception of institutions such as several churches and the Owen J. Roberts High school.

Portions of Route 23 would be moved, and the Kimberton-Pughtown road would be abandon. Camp Sancanac would be an island and Camp Innabah would sit at the end of a large peninsula.

The darkest portion of the map is the water, and several landmarks can be identified by their names.

In special hearings held at Reading recently, the French creek folks went away feeling "uninformed."

They then banded to ask the special meeting which will be next week, to pose such questions as, "is it true engineering and condemnation can begin within the year?"

ATTENDING THE recent residents' meeting were:

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hoefle, Mrs. C. A. Wade, Samuel Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Street, F. O. Saxon, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Ottolini, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Lynch, Robert Davis and Mr. and Mrs. George Quigley.

Street traveled to Harrisburg recently to obtain a copy of the map which shows the exact area the lake and park is to consume.

He has the map available for the information of area residents. The meeting ended with an agreement to begin an effort to get as many interested persons as possible to attend the U.S. Army Engineers meeting.

Back row, Linda Templin, Patti Harp and Sandra Antush.

300 Attend June Fete At Elementary School

Three hundred persons Wednesday attended what might be the biggest and most colorful June fete in a score of years at West Pottsgrove.

The event was enacted by youngsters from Kindergarten to the Sixth grade. Children made dozens of artificial flowers and nine gowns were made by Mrs. Helen Lucas, 34 Howard street, Stowe.

The program included a simple skit called "Oats, Peas, Beans and Barley Grow" that was done by Kindergarten boys and girls.

They rehearsed two weeks for the 10 minute act.

A skit entitled, "The Flag" was more complex in depicting the evolution of America's banner. It was done by Third graders.

A STILL more involved routine showed the development of America and was done by Fourth graders.

Fifth graders did a square dance and Sixth graders performed a drill. Other acts were by First and Second graders.

Spectators stood during the hour long program in the field at West Pottsgrove school. A major part of the event was an appearance by Roselie Howlett, queen of the fete, and her court.

Proceeds from 14 refreshment booths, the largest number in years, will go partly to the parent teacher association. The group usually buys school equipment with its profits.

Teachers who trained pupils for the event were Helen Baker, Mrs. Mary Colihan, Mrs. Shirley Shvetz, Mrs. Barbara Grabey, Mrs. Ruth DePrefontaine, Mrs. Nellie Hughes, Mrs. Ida Peterson, Mrs. Beatrice Koppenhaver, Walter Trout, Ronald Bradford, Mrs. Phyllis Trout, Shirley Christman and Curtis Brendlinger.

After grave consideration, the new papa answered dubiously, "I guess it won't hurt—but darling, be sure: boil the finger first!" church, YWCA director, a member of Pottstown Hospital auxiliary, Pottstown Historical society, Franklin PTA board and auxiliaries of the American Business club and Ringing Hill Fire company.

ANOTHER TEACHER who will leave Pottstown for Florida immediately after school is Mrs. Lucille W. Williams who teaches the intermediate special girls class at Jefferson Elementary school.

Anna Hoffman — Mrs. Lucille Williams

"I'm looking forward to going to Florida. I've bought a duplex at Ft. Lauderdale that looks right over the ocean, but I just love Pottstown. It has been a charming and warm hearted home to me," she said.

She has been teaching in Pottstown for 18 years and is from Warren.

Mrs. Williams is the past president of the Business and Professional Women's club, member of the 20th Century Book club, past president of the State Society for Education of Exceptional children, and is a member of the First Presbyterian church.

AFTER 28 years of teaching in area schools, 12 in Pottstown and 16 in Birdsboro, Mrs. Anna L. Hoffman, Elverson, is retiring to do "all the things I've wanted to do but never had the chance. I want to catch up on my reading and take a few trips," she said.

Mrs. Hoffman teaches the first grade at St. Clair elementary school. Her husband, Goheen, is an official for a shoe company in Reading.

She said that 28 years of teaching is "a long time but it doesn't seem that long. Many of my children have been quite successful."

Mrs. Hoffman is a member of the Birdsboro Women's club, past matron of the Eastern Star in Birdsboro, past president of the Cedarette club of Coatesville, Eastern Star Matron's club of Reading, Birdsboro Women's club, and auxiliaries of the Elverson Fire company and Rajah Chanters, Reading.

Tommy Finds Horse Heaven In Wine Cellar

CHICAGO (AP) —Tommy the horse reluctantly left the pleasures of the wine cellar Wednesday —hoisted back into the world of toil by a block and tackle.

And the first thing Tommy got was a bath.

It took a civl defense rescue unit to haul the 12-year-old chestnut free of the cellar which apparently had become something of a work horse's idea of heaven.

Normally Tommy pulls a fruit and vegetable wagon through the city streets. But Monday either through accident or design, he got into an old wine cellar under a 60-year-old stable. Once there, Tommy made the most of his vacation, contentedly munching hay throughout the hubbub of rescue efforts.

He got into the cellar through a stairway that leads from the stable. But the opening wasn't big enough to get him out and workers used sledges and air hammers to break up a concrete floor to enlarge the opening.

Several attempts to coax the animal up the tight stairwell failed. Tommy preferred to stay in the cellar, eating hay and frequently quenching his thirst—with water.

Tommy resisted all attempts to pull him out and successfully foiled a previous attempt to hoist him out with a sling.

About 100 spectators cheered as Tommy was led out of the stable by his owner Julius Pekofsky, after the rescue. A veterinarian who examined Tommy said he suffered a cut lip, a scraped back and some cuts on his hooves.

Argentina May Lodge Protest Against Israel

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Foreign Minister Diogenes Taboada indicated Wednesday night Argentina will make a formal protest to Israel if it is proved that Adolf Eichmann was kidnapped in Argentina.

Eichmann, accused of major responsibility for the deaths of six million Jews, now is being held in Israel. Israeli authorities have not said where or when he was seized, but reliable informants here say he was seized by secret agents in Argentina last month and taken by plane to Israel.

Meanwhile, members of the opposition People's Radical party said they planned a resolution in Congress asking President Arturo Frondizi's government to investigate Nazi activities in Argentina.

Deputy Silvanon Santander charged at a news conference the country has become a haven for a large number of wanted war criminals. He read off a long list of names of persons he said were Nazis or Fascist Hungarians living in suburban Buenos Aires.

CUBAN PILOTS ARRESTED BY LOYALISTS

'General Unreliability' Is Cited as Reason

DETAINED AVIATORS COMPRISE JET FORCE

HAVANA (AP)—The bulk of Cuba's jet pilots are under detention in a roundup of military personnel by officials loyal to Prime Minister Fidel Castro, informed sources said Wednesday.

These sources said the arrests began May 27 on the personal orders of Armed Forces Minister Raul Castro and included at least 16 military pilots, of whom nine are qualified to fly jets.

The Armed Forces Press Bureau said it had no information on such a roundup. It would practically ground Cuba's air force.

The sources gave the following account: Among those detained were the commander of Cuba's main air force base San Antonio de Los Banos, his adjutant, his aide, his operations officer, and the commanding officer of Cuba's only jet squadron.

The arrests resulted from the discovery of an anti-Communist and counterrevolutionary plot among air force personnel. Detentions are continuing.

Originally 18 aviation officers were arrested at the San Antonio base alone. Others were seized in Havana and in Camaguey. Two held at San Antonio were subsequently released.

All those detained for investigation at San Antonio were air force veterans who flew for the forces of ex-President Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship and were released by Castro. At least one pilot among them had been imprisoned by Batista for refusing to bomb rebel positions in Cienfuegos during the revolution.

The detained San Antonio base commander also was the commander of Castro's only B26 light bomber squadron.

The prisoners were removed from Havana and taken either to Santiago de Cuba or to the old Minas del Frio military base in Oriente province to avoid demonstrations by friends or relatives.

One source said the pilots' position on communism and their "general unrealiability" toward the Castro regime were factors in their detention.

There also were reports, which could not be confirmed, of numerous arrests among military personnel in Matanzas and Camaguey. Neither the press bureau nor ranking Castro officials would comment.

TEMPERS ERUPT AT MEETING

about granting you any hearing.

"All I know is we are getting a new chief in a couple days," added Hampton.

GUADAGNO stood up and angrily shouted, "Don't any of you commissioners ask me to break up bingo games in this township!"

The fired policeman is still a township constable.

"Who instructed you to break up bingo games?" asked Guerino Panfile, a member of the police committee that unanimously fired Big Jim.

Guadagno shot back, "Panfile, you've been telling people to call me and ask that I bust up illegal bingo."

PANFILE jumped up and exclaimed, "That's a damn lie!"

Guadagno shouted back, "What kind of language is that for a commissioner?"

The question brought laughter from all in the room.

Tempers calmed after the chuckles, but Panfile rose once more to declare, "Jim I'm tired of complaints from you. If you ever get a hearing on your dismissal I doubt if I'll attend."

The police committee will meet Sunday to select one of 12 candidates for Guadagno's former job.

Following the meeting, Guadagno said he will continue attempts to regain the police chief position.

ALL COMMISSIONERS attended the meeting. They were asked to ante up $5 for each township boy wanting to play baseball in Memorial park.

Raymond Gofus, 507 Race street, Stowe, made the request. Gofus declared, "Our township has absolutely no supervised recreation during the Summer. But it's our duty to have some program for children.

"Now that Pottstown charges $5 for each boy enroled in a baseball league, many boys from West Pottsgrove have nowhere to play. They have no one to put up the $5," he explained.

MRS. ARLENE YOST, township secretary, said she discussed the matter with a lawyer and was told that West Pottsgrove has no responsibility to provide recreation.

The reason is the township lacks a recreation commission, noted Mrs. Yost.

Albert Basile, tax collector, said there were no funds for recreation in the new $58,698 budget. He proposed the matter be shelved until January, when a new budget is made.

Basile also suggested contacts be made with the school board to learn if that group will help sponsor a Summer recreation program.

Township bonds worth $7000 are due and without tax funds to pay for them, money must be transferred from a sewer account, said Mrs. Yost.

Commissioners soon will have the township sprayed with insecticide, and they will draw a lease for snow plow rentals for Winter use.

Church Study Asks Tighter Radio Control

NEW YORK (AP)—Thirty-three million Americans who belong to churches affiliated with the National Council of Churches were urged Wednesday to support tighter government supervision of radio and television.

The proposal was made in a statement to the council's general board from a commission which has made a two-year study of the church in relation to mass media.

The document was presented by the commission chairman, the Rev. Wilbour E. Saunders, whose 34-man study group included the noted Episcopal bishop, the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, of California, and Spyros P. Skouras, president of 20th-Century Fox films.

The statement said the churches have an obligation to urge the Federal Communications Commission "to fulfill its legal mandate to supervise and regulate the radio and television stations in the public interest."

It urged greater use of the FCC's power to grant or withhold broadcasting licenses, and also use of local review boards and public hearings wherever the standards of a broadcaster are questioned.

Mass media, the statement said, would not only avoid offense but take positive action to broaden the "intellectual and spiritual horizons" of the people and present a wide range of viewpoints.

The Sun Shines On Henry; But For How Long

LOGANSPORT, Ind. (AP)—Henry Sullivan tottered into the sunlight Wednesday—a free man for the first time in 63 years.

Now wrinkled and bald, the 85-year-old man spent all but the first 14 of those years in what the state now admits was illegal detention in state mental hospitals. The governor signed an executive order transferring him to a mental hospital while Sullivan was serving 1-14 years for a $15 theft.

He was never legally declared insane, and his case was never reviewed until two years ago when he escaped from the state hospital here and put it up to the local judge.

But Henry wasn't entirely happy about being turned loose for the first time since 1897.

Henry is on a three-month convalescent leave required on the outside before he receives his outright discharge and return of his rights as a citizen.

Dressed in a loud sports jacket and heavy vest, his shirt collar turned up in Gay Nineties style, Henry was somebody important at last.

Henry displayed remarkable mental sharpness for someone who has not mingled in public since before the Spanish-American War.

His pockets bulged with magazines and textbooks, one of them entitled "Mental Illness, A Guide for the Family." He recalled names to the middle initial. Dates to the hour of the day and even temperatures on days he was moved from one prison to another.

In the hospital chapel, Henry looked solemnly at a group of tight-lipped patients shuffling around to discordant tunes from a band which seemed comprised largely of tamborines and cymbals. It was dance therapy time.

"Prefer "The Blue Danube Waltz" myself," Henry snapped. "But I guess that wouldn't get a fellow out of here."

"People nowadays are insane," Henry muttered on his trip to town as he glanced around at the traffic and glittering store windows. "They're throwing money around like crazy."

Henry had to be restrained from crossing a street against a traffic light.

"In my day, you could go a whole mile without seeing a single rig on this street," he said.

"You've got lots of money now, Henry," somebody joked as he was handed his $5 spending money —all that remained of his pension check after paying $65 for a month's lodging in town.

"Well, I'm like John D. Rockefeller," Henry returned. "I never get enough."

Henry plans to sue for possession of the family farm, now long passed into other hands. And he wants to sue a railroad for the accidental death of his father in 1923. Henry has lots of plans.

But is it really a kind thing to do to Henry—sending him into the world, a world he never knew, at the age of 85?

"Henry has lived in institutions so long, he is completely dependent on them," said Dr. Ernest J. Fogel, hospital superintendent.

"He'll be back with us inside of three weeks."

St. Matthew's Talent Night Starts With Group Singing of Old Songs

LUDWIGS CORNER — Mrs. H. J. Ash, Corr., Phone Glenview 8-5245. For Delivery Phone Glen View 8-5219.

A talent night program was presented at St. Matthew's United Church of Christ during the family fellowship meeting. A social hour with a covered dish supper preceded the program.

The first act was group singing of old time songs. Pastor Richard E. Dettrey gave words of welcome.

Taking part were: Karen and Jack Dettrey, Linda Dilworth, Harold Firestone, Jr., Lnida Firestone, Mrs. G. Newton Reitnour, Janice Francis class taught by Mrs. Chester Wenger, and Mrs. Arthur Griffith, Nancy and Billy Francis, Jerry Myer, David Pepple, Bill Pepple, Diane Reitnour, Mrs. Nevin Myer, Shirley and Doris Wenger, Mrs. Paul Dilworth, Mary Ellen Weaver, and Donna Jean Wilson.

Birthday cakes were baked for three junior members: Debbie and Norman Myer, children of Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Myer and Joseph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Connor.

MEMORIAL DAY Pastor Dettrey delivered a sermon, entitled, "Backward Glance".

The Senior choir sang an anthem. The homecoming afternoon service was opened with an organ recital by Mrs. Harley Shoemaker. The Rev. John Kleinginna, a nephew of the Rev. W. E. Kleinginna who served the church as pastor in 1927 and 1928, spoke on the "Meaning of Memorial Day." The Junior choir sang accompanied by Mrs. Shoemaker, and their director, Mrs. Dilworth. A duet was played with Mrs. Shoemaker at the organ and Malinda Shoemaker, playing the flute.

During the social hour after the service, refreshments were served by the Guild.

Rite of Confirmation will be Sunday at the service for Sharon Davis, Harry S. Emery, Alan R. Hatter, Ernest R. Krause, Harry Raymond McBride, Kenneth Richard Pennypacker, and Donald L. Renninger.

THE CHILDREN'S day program will be during the church school hour Sunday, June 12.

Holy Communion will be at the 10:30 a. m. service.

The service the past Sunday emphasized change in the social order, peace, and the Christian's responsibility to work through the power of the Holy Spirit. The sermon was entitled "Transformation of Life."

Sunday evening, the confirmands will be the guests of honor at a reception given by the Luther league at the church.

Service in Windsor church, Eagle, opened with an organ prelude. The scripture reading was preceded by the hymn.

The Ludwig's Corner Hunt club met in Bruner's fields, Ludwig's Corner, Saturday, even though there were intermittent showers. There were 92 horses listed for various events.

Mrs. Anna Reitnour, formerly of Spring City RD, now living in the Huffman Nursing home, suffered a stroke on Saturday evening.

Police Patrols Are Praised by Supervisors

A resolution praising the State police for the effective work done in curbing speeding on Route 83 was unanimously passed by the East Vincent township supervisors Wednesday night.

The resolution praised the police for the effectiveness of the added patrol in curbing speeding on the section of the highway which area residents nicknamed "Deadman's Run."

The patrol was added after two automobile collisions claimed six lives within 16 days in May. The extra patrol, from the Thorndale barracks, was assigned exclusively to Route 83.

A portion of Deadman's Run — called the most dangerous stretch of highway in the area —lies within East Vincent township. The remainder of the two-mile strip of two-lane highway lies within East Pikeland township.

East Vincent township has no police officer of its own, and relies on the Thorndale barracks for protection.

Two building permits were also approved by the supervisors. They were requested by Donald Ingram and Joseph Myers.

Russians Return Boy's Dollar Bill

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Eleven-year-old Robert Brossell is a rock collector who is having pretty good luck. Recently he addressed a letter to "Nikita Khrushchev, Kremlin Bldg., Moscow."

In it, he advised the chairman of the Council of Ministers of the Soviet Union: "As a hobby, I am studying minerals under the microscope and I thought it would be nice if I could compare our minerals with yours. I am enclosing $1 for postage and handling."

Wednesday, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brossell had a package from Moscow. In it were six rock samples, a couple of brochures in English, a letter from the Soviet Committee on Youth Organization—and his dollar.

Fire Department Leaders to Meet In Harrisburg

Lewis J. Kirby, borough fire marshal, and Richard Moser, borough fire chief, will attend a State-wide conference on fire prevention in Harrisburg Monday, called by Gov. David L. Lawrence.

The purpose of the conference is to initiate a full scale drive against the fire destruction of life and property in Pennsylvania. Last year's fires in the Commonwealth claimed 297 lives and destroyed $42 million worth of property.

Veteran firemen and officials from the State's cities, towns and boroughs are being asked to attend the session to discuss their individual fire problems. The meeting will be open to the public.

In a letter to the firemen, Governor Lawrence said: "Positive action must be taken to alert the public to ways in which damage by fire can be reduced.

"To best accomplish this, all the fire fighting and fire prevention forces in the Commonwealth must join together in a maximum effort to minimize the threat to the lives and homes of our citizens."

FA 3-3000 is the number for news tips.

Herter Denounces Red China Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) —Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said Wednesday the Communist bloc likely will launch new probing action, especially in the Far East.

Herter coupled this warning with a fresh denunciation of Red China's government as an outlaw regime intent on grabbing its smaller neighbors by force.

He pleged the United States will continue to oppose Red Chinas admission to the United Nations until it makes trustworthy promises to lie at peace with its Asian neighbors.

Herter outlined his views at a closed-door strategy meeting of representatives of the eight Southeast Asia Treaty Organization allies.

A spokesman reported the gist of Herter's remarks after the conference examined the outlook in the wake of the blowup of the summit meeting.

The eight allies agreed they can expect trouble from the Chinese Reds unless they stand firm.

Although predicting likely trouble, Herter said he does not expect any Soviet action against divided Berlin.

But Herter cautioned that Soviet policy can switch very rapidly and that the West must keep up its guard.

The secretary's strongly worded attack on the Peiping regime, informants said, was aimed at answering New Zealand's Prime Minister Walter Nash.

Nash is reported to have suggested to the meeting that Red China's membership in the U.N. might help calm the tense post-summit outlook.

In reply, Herter lambasted the Chinese Reds for unswervingly pushing a hard line in dealing with the west.

He read delegates a summary of Radio Peiping's newest anti-American diatribes, calling them proof the Chinese Reds want to kick the United States out of the Far East, neutralize Japan and seize countries along its perimeter.

Admitting Red China to the United Nations would mean abandonment of the Chinese Nationalist regime on Formosa, Herter said.

In reviewing the past year's developments, the SEATO allies credited their alliance with blocking any new Communist incursions into the region.

Represented at the meeting are the United States, Britain, France, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand, Pakistan and Thailand.

Eichmann Feared Death; Surprised at Kidnaping

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—"He lived in constant terror of being killed. But he never dreamed of being kidnaped."

Reliable sources Wednesday gave that description of Adolf Eichmann in disclosing new details of his capture here by Israeli agents in one of the most dramatic cloak-and-dagger stories of the postwar world.

Eichmann, the most wanted Nazi war criminal still alive, is in Israel. He will stand trial there on charges of being the man most responsible under Adolf Hitler for the extermination of six million Jews.

Officially Israel has never admitted Eichmann was grabbed by secret commando-like agents here May 12 or 13, and whisked by plane to Israel.

But it is the most generally accepted story of how the now 54-year-old hollow-cheeked, droopy-nosed former Nazi Elite Guard colonel was arrested after eluding capture for 15 years—the last eight in Latin America.

Informants requested anonymity in giving this picture of Eichmann's life: "He was always on the move. He traveled from country to country, from city to city. He changed jobs, he changed names. But wherever he went he lived constantly in fear of being killed.

"He probably saw assassins around every corner. He grew gaunt, nervous and bald. He tried to shroud his life in modest obscurity.

"Eichmann had few acquaintances. Even with his Nazi friends he used a false name. He pretended he was Richard Krumey, one of his accomplices during the war.

"As the years rolled by he began to cling more and more to the hope he would be forgotten. But his terror never really subsided."

The informants gave these additional details: "The end of the trail came for him three weeks ago in a Buenos Aires suburb when he stepped off a bus in the early evening to walk home to where his German-born wife and four children waited for him.

A car darted out of traffic and screeched to a halt. Israeli secret agents dragged him inside.

Stevenson Says Administration Is Ineffective

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson called Wednesday for "new and bolder" thinking by united Western allies and offered his own "grand strategy for peace."

The 1952-56 Democratic presidential nominee told a crowd of cheering labor unionists "the effectiveness for leadership of the present—Eisenhower — administration in Washington has been impaired if not destroyed."

With that renewal of his criticism of the summit conference failure, Stevenson urged steps to take the initiative in the cold war and to "restore confidence in American leadership."

Stevenson declared the free world must out-produce the Communists and compete against them "as strenuously as we can on the economic and political front and by demonstrating with action rather than words that our system has more to offer mankind."

Stevenson, who says he is not a candidate for his party's presidential nomination but has not barred a draft, spoke at the convention of the Textile Workers of America in the grand ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

Two More Bodies Discovered From 'Lady Be Good'

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) —The remains of two more crew members of the U.S. World War II bomber "Lady Be Good" have been found in the Lybian Desert, the U.S. Army said Wednesday.

One body was discovered early in May by geologists of a British oil company. The other was found by members of a 19-man U.S. Army search team which hunted the area for several weeks in April and May.

The Army said experts have identified the bodies but names will not be released until final determination has been made by a board of officers. This procedure is necessary to establish an identification admissable in court, the Army said.

The bodies are believed to be those of T. Sgt. Harold S. Ripslinger, of Saginaw, Mich., and S. Sgt. Guy E. Shelley, of New Cumberland, Pa. A report from Tripoli said personal effects bearing the names of those men were found with the bodies.

The B24 bomber was discovered almost intact last year about 400 miles from the Mediterranean coast. It had made a pilotless belly landing after the crew parachuted while returning from a bombing raid on Naples, Italy, April 4, 1943.

The Army made two unsuccessful searches last summer. Last February a British oil exploration team found the remains of five men 85 miles north of the plane. All five have been identified.

A diary found on one of the five said one man, 2nd. Lt. John S. Woravka, of Cleveland, Ohio, failed to join the group after bailing out. Three others, Shelley, Ripslinger and S. Sgt. Vernon L. Moore, of New Boston, Ohio, left the main party in search of help.

Japanese Paper Says Ike's Visit Will Be Military Inspection Tour

TOKYO (AP)—Less than six months ago President Eisenhower made a triumphant "peace with justice" tour of Asia. His return to this troubled region this month is compared in a Tokyo newspaper to a military inspection.

Last December, the U.S. chief executive drew the applause of enthusiastic millions in India, Pakistan and Afghanistan who contrasted his apparent desire for peace with the belligerency of neighboring Communist China.

Now, the failure of the summit conference, deepening hostility from the entire Communist bloc and internal strife in Japan over the new U.S.-Japanese security pact threaten to cloud this image of "the man who cherishes peace."

Eisenhower goes to the Philippines, Okinawa, Formosa, South Korea and Japan starting June 14. American men or materials — sometimes both — help stiffen the defenses of these areas against the threat of communism.

Okinawa is the biggest U.S. base in Asia, a heavily armed stationary aircraft carrier.

There are three major American bases in the Philippines—Clark Air Base, headquarters of U.S. naval forces at Sangley Point and Subic Naval Base, where the big U.S. 7th Fleet puts in to refuel and undergo repairs.

U.S. advisers, arms and planes bolster the defenses of Formosa, seat of the Nationalist government of Chiang Kai-shek since it fled the mainland a decade ago.

U.S. soldiers stand shoulder to shoulder with Koreans on the front lines in South Korea.

American naval and airmen are on the alert at five big naval bases and six major air bases in Japan.

Everywhere but in Japan Eisenhower's impending visit has been received with satisfaction as a sign the United States is stiffening its determination to stand fast against the Communists.

The influential Tokyo newspaper Asahi Shimbun summed up Japanese misgivings: "His visit to Japan may" be seen "now rather as part of a tour of inspection in the territories of trusted military allies than as part of a pilgrimage of peace."

These anxieties have been supported by warnings to the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization Council, meeting in Washington, of possible new belligerency on the part of Communist China.

During Eisenhower's visit to South Asia, only the Chinese Reds and, later, the North Vietnamese, denounced the purposes of his tour.

The Soviet Union and the Communist parties of countries where he stopped applauded him. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev called the President a man of peace.

But since the summit collapse, the entire Communist world has turned on Eisenhower and American foreign policy. The Red Chinese continue to lead all others in the virulence of their attacks on the U.S. leader.

Nikita Blames Ike for Summit Conference Flop

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev blamed President Eisenhower Wednesday for the fact that the two leaders had no private meeting either before or after the abortive Paris summit conference.

Khrushchev sought to drive home his contention that the U2 spy plane flight incident produced the latest break in Soviet-American relations, culminating in the blowup of the conference last month. Khrushchev maintained this was all Eisenhower's fault and said, "The first step was to be expected from the U. S. President and from him only."

Khrushchev gave new publicity to his point of view in an unusual front-page interview with the government newspaper Izvestia. It was transmitted abroad by Radio Moscow and Tass, Soviet news agency.

The Premier had said the same thing in some detail to a Kremlin meeting of Communist workers Saturday but apparently felt this point was buried in press accounts because the speech contained so much else.

The interview apparently to be one of a series of moves intended to impress on the world the Soviet leader's view that he should not be blamed for the failure of the summit.

ROCKEFELLER ASKS HIGHER FEDERAL AID

Defense Spending Increase Is Advised

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller called Wednesday night for greater defense spending and more federal aid to states and localities without increasing taxes of individuals.

More government spending is needed, he said, to keep pace with world and national conditions.

"We must face the fact that the Soviet economy has been growing recently at a faster rate than ours," Rockefeller said. "The Soviet economic thrust is being used as a weapon, along with the threat to use military force and the use of the political instrument of subversion."

The governor recommended additional tax incentives for business investment, elimination of featherbedding in labor and business, reorientation of the national farm program and elimination of racial discrimination as ways to improve the national economy.

The governor commented:

Defense—"National security expenditures need to be increased in view of continuing threats to the peace of the world."

State-local needs—"Other government expenditures need to be increased. We have fallen behind in providing the public assets needed to support a growing economy."

New York State's spending has increased under Rockefeller, who took office Jan. 1, 1959. The higher spending was financed largely through tax increases the Legislature enacted at Rockefeller's request.

Rockefeller's remarks were in a speech prepared for delivery at the opening of a three-day conference he called to discuss problems connected with automation.

He used the automation theme as a basis for a wide-ranging appraisal of the American economy and its future.

Boulder Crushes Youth in Mine

SHAMOKIN (AP) — A 14 year old boy was crushed to death tonight by a huge boulder which tumbled on him while he and a companion were picking coal in an abandoned strip mine near here.

He was Charles Dillaplane, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dillaplane of Shamokin.

The companion, identified only as Straub, also 14, suffered scratches when the boulder and dirt cascaded on them in the 30-foot deep stripping.

He managed to free himself and summon aid.

A truck was used to pull the boulder from the Dillaplane youth's body after ten men were unable to budge it.

Space Official Testifies

U2 Weather Plane Missions In Doubt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The civilian space agency's second in command denied Wednesday that his agency knew its U2 weather study planes were being used for spying. A Senate investigator was openly skeptical of this.

Testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Dr. Hugh L. Dryden said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has "no intelligence activities either in the development of devices, methods, instruments or operations."

Dryden, NASA's deputy administrator, also told the committee the high-altitude U2s have made more than 200 weather research flights since 1956 but that the agency did not know just where the aircraft went until "after the fact."

Those flights, covering about 264,000 miles, generally were conducted in the United States, Western Europe, Turkey and Japan, he said.

The space agency's deputy chief spoke behind closed doors and a transcript of his testimony was handed to reporters only after censors had deleted large segments of it. Reporters complained about this, but to no avail.

Meeting with newsmen after Dryden was excused, committee Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) said he does not believe that most NASA officials knew their agency was being used as a cover for aerial spying.

But of Dryden, Fulbright said: "This witness—he's had long experience—I think he knew a good deal about what was going on."

Fulbright said it was "a rather dangerous undertaking" to use the space agency as a cover for espionage.

However, he said Dryden's testimony showed the bulk of U2 flights were actually for study of upper-air turbulence and other weather data, as claimed.

In addition to the U2s, which he said he believed are all grounded now, Dryden told of NASA installing research instruments in both commercial and military planes, and of working with foreign governments.

Critics of the administration's actions in the U2 spy plane's loss in the Soviet Union a month ago have voiced concern that the space agency's avowedly scientific, nonmilitary role would be discredited as aresult.

First Lady Hospitalized at Walter Reed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mamie Eisenhower, suffering from an attack of acute asthmatic bronchitis, is under treatment at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

The White House announced the First Lady entered the hospital Tuesday and would remain under treatment "a short while"—presumably a few days.

Doctors reported she is feeling better, has little fever, and is "as comfortable as she can be" under the circumstances, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said.

Hagerty announced Mrs. Eisenhower's hospitalization and said she has had such attacks before, although none so severe.

She is occupying the three-room air-conditioned executive suite at Walter Reed, which the President used after his ileitis operation in 1956. Her husband drove to the hospital and visited with her for half an hour Wednesday afternoon.

The report of her illness increased speculation that Mrs. Eisenhower may not go along, as scheduled, when the President makes his Far East trip starting June 12. Hagerty said he could not say about this, because he does not know how long she will be in the hospital.

EXHIBITION BLOOMS—Victor Ayres, member of Pottstown Rose society and publicity chairman for the annual rose show displays three of the 87 classes which will appear in Saturday's rose show at North Coventry school. The blooms at left are included in the picture class which includes hybrid teas, grandifloral and hybrid perpetuals. There are no rules for this class except they are not to be over 20 inches in height. The one branch is placed in the society's newly purchased test tubes and made stationary in a wood block. The spray is supposed to be exhibited at all stages, some buds open and some closed. A composition of pink and pink blends in the arrangement class is pictured at center. When making arrangements, tight flowers and those in lighter shades are placed at the top. Open blooms are used at the bottom to give weight. The one exhibition bloom at right typifies a good part of the show since they appear by the hundreds.

Steps in Grooming Roses for Show, Few and Easy for Novice to Follow

By DOLLIE SMITH
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Rose growers, both amateur and experienced, will take part in the ninth annual rose show planned by the Pottstown Rose society Saturday in North Coventry school.

Classifications and rules set down by the society are many and to novices may seem difficult to follow.

A situation which occurred at last year's show may be of consolation. One couple who resides within the boundries of Pottstown were the proud and sole owners of one rosebush.

Unknown to the lady of the house, her husband took one single rose from the bush and exhibited it at the show.

All the facts about good grooming, feeding, fungicides, cutting and watering were unknown to both husband and wife, but they returned home with a blue ribbon on a first try.

As the society points out, you don't have to know all the facts, but it helps. Even if you don't win the first time, the experience is a lesson in itself.

For those with scientific interests, the society does advocate a certain set of practical and uncomplicated guides.

They start with planting a new bush and suggest that a hole be made 18 inches in diameter and 20 inches deep.

Good soil, and humus such as peat should be taken into consideration. Then the bush should be well watered.

A newly planted bush should be watered three or four times weekly in the morning or evening, but not in the hot sun.

Fertilizer should be added, after the rose starts growing, every six weeks. Also necessary is spraying at least once a week with a favorite insecticide and fungicide.

As mentioned before, judges will be concerned about the foliage of the plant in addition to the condition of the bloom and the balance between the rack and bloom.

Definition of rack is anything below the flower.

In floribundas, the rack should be evenly formed. An excessively high bud should be pinched off the stem early so all buds will come true to form.

In displaying a spray from the floribundas, there should not be too many unopened buds although the spray is designed to show buds at all stages.

To groom the rose for showing, the foliage (leaves and stems) should be cleaned with a damp, soft cloth so that all residue is removed. Tight blooms are forced open with the aid of a small camel hair brush.

When cutting, immerse immediately in cold water and refrigerate until time to depart for the show. Depending on the number of petals on the blooms, the exhibition roses can be held four or five days.

Blooms of more than 35 petals are better for holding than those with fewer petals.

The attractive, long stem roses are obtained from bushes in your own back yard by removing all side shoots and buds to 15 or 18 inches.

It must also be remembered, the society cautions, that a show rose should not be cut after 9 o'clock in the morning until after 7 o'clock in the evening.

In the hybrid tea rose classes, an open bloom should be three quarter to full opened at the time of judging. A specimen hybrid tea rose should be one half to three quarters open.

With these few, fast rules in mind, take one rose or many and deliver to North Coventry school Saturday morning from 7 to 11 o'clock. Roses will be on public display from 2 to 9 p. m.

Awards will be given at 6 p. m.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM A. FEIGHT

Virginia Ann Dorner Becomes Bride Of William Feight in Trinity EC Church

Bouquets of white gladioli, snapdragons and chrysanthemums decorated the altar of Trinity Evangelical Congregational church for the marriage of Virginia Ann Dorner and William A. Feight. The Rev. John Moyer officiated at the double ring service.

Mrs. Carlton Koons was organist and Janice Weaver was soloist.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Dorner. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Feight, 663 Walnut street, are parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a floor length grown of nylon embroidered organdy. The basque bodice was fashioned with a scalloped sabrina neckline and short scalloped sleeves.

Embroidered scallops on the bouffant skirt gave the effect of ruffled tiers. A coronet of pearls and rhinestones secured a bouffant veil of French illusion. She carried a bouquet of white astors, lilies of the valley and ivy centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. G. W. Mohn, cousin of the bride, Levittown, N. J., served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Patricia Feight, 663 Walnut street, sister of the bridegroom, and Pearl Boyer, Center street, Stowe.

Attendants were gowned alike in cocktail length dresses of agua organza. The molded bodice overlayed with floral satin appliques was styled with a modified sabrina neckline and short sleeves.

The skirts were bouffant and deep-hemmed. They wore half headpieces of aqua blossoms and circular veils. Matron of honor carried a basket of white astors, pink daisies, baby's breath and ivy. Bridesmaids carried baskets of aqua astors, pink daisies, baby's breath and ivy.

Paul Feight, 663 Walnut street, attended his brother as best man. Seating the guests were David Miller, North Hanover street, and William Dorner, 610 North Evans street, brother of the bride.

Mother of the bride wore a beige lace dress over taffeta. She chose matching beige accessories and lavender orchid corsage. Mrs. Feight, mother of the bridegroom, appeared in a beige lace dress of green taffeta. She wore beige accessories and a white orchid corsage.

A reception was held for 250 guests at the Eagles' ballroom. Guests attended from: Washington, D. C.; Levittown, N.J.; Conshohocken, Spring City, Coatesville, Boyertown, Lavelle, Royersford and the surrounding area.

NOTE TO NEW COOKS

To truss a chicken before roasting, tie the center of a piece of string to the bird's tail; then tie the legs and tail firmly together. The wing tips should be brought back of the bird over the neck skin. Roast the bird on a rack.

LAUNDRY BASKETS

Laundry baskets are now constructed of smooth polyethylene plastic, completely eliminating the scratches, scrapes, and splinters that were part and parcel of the old-fashioned wood or wicker-type of basket.

A deep, handy basket of this sort is a must in any home laundry, along with the soap, detergent, hot water, and a washing machine.

High School Teachers, Pupils Are Selected For Advance Summer Study

Four teachers and three pupils of the Boyertown Area High school will take advanced work in mathematics and science at six colleges and universities this summer, most of it under grants made by the National Science Foundation.

One of the pupils, Ronald Drumheller, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Drumheller, Bechtelsville, was selected to attend a National Science Foundation Science Training program for high school pupils in chemistry at Bucknell university, Lewisburg. While at Bucknell, Drumheller will live on the campus and pursue a college level course in chemistry.

Two pupils, Walter Weber, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Weber, Bechtelsville RD 1, and Earl Geiger, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Geiger, 119 West Second street, Boyertown, have been selected to participate in a Summer program for outstanding chemistry pupils of the Reading-Berks area to be conducted at Albright college, Reading, from June 20 through July 15.

The course will also be a college level course in chemistry, a prerequisite being that each pupil must have completed a year of high school chemistry. Classes will meet daily from 9 a. m. to 12 noon and there will be laboratory periods in the afternoon on two of the days during the week.

THIS YEAR'S session at Albright represents the last time it will be necessary for local schools or persons to finance the program, since the seminar has made application to the National Science Foundation for stipend funds and expects to receive them beginning next academic year.

Faculty members who will participate in National Science Foundation programs include E. Alan Gernerd, coordinator of mathematics and science in the senior high school, who will participate in the Summer Research Participation Training program for high school teachers of science and mathematics sponsored by Temple university, Philadelphia, under a grant from the National Science Foundation.

Also William Davies, who will attend a chemistry and physics institute under National Science Foundation at Franklin and Marshall college, Lancaster, from June 27 to August 5; Wallace C. Musser, who will attend a biology institute from July 5 to August 12 at Rutgers university, New Brunswick, N. J.; and Kenneth G. Weisel, who has won a stipend to attend the National Science Foundation Summer institute at Pennsylvania State university, University Park, from July 5 to August 12.

Piano Recital Set

The pupils of Dorothy Bechtel will appear in their annual piano recital Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Boyertown High school auditorium.

Following the program, the pupils who auditioned for the National Fraternity of Student musicians will be awarded their certificates and pins.

Area Woman Undergoes Surgery

Mrs. Harold Heimbach, Bechtelsville RD 1, underwent surgery Wednesday in Sacred Heart hospital, Allentown.

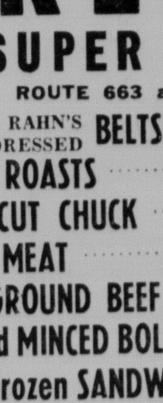

Hospital authorities reported she was "doing fine" after the operation.

She was admitted to the hospital Tuesday afternoon.

ONION BULBS

As onion bulbs grow very near the surface of the soil, be careful when cultivating them not to cut into the bulbs. A scuffle hoe is perhaps the best tool for the purpose.

School Looted; Milk Is Taken

Vandals with a strong liking for milk broke into the Upper Frederick Township school, Route 83, two nights in succession.

The vandals looted the kitchen and two temporary classrooms, taking about $10 in cash, quantities of gelatine and sugar—and 20 cartons of milk.

Locked doors of other classrooms halted any further looting, according to Edward Deysher, principal.

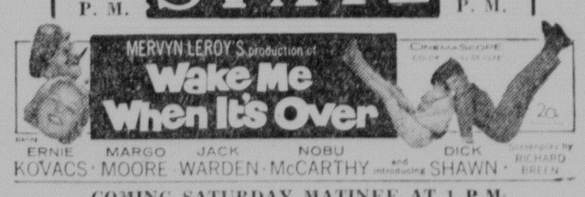

The cafeteria and two makeshift classrooms were littered. The makeshift classrooms are being used while an addition to the school is being completed.

CARDS SPANK DODGERS 5-2 IN COLISEUM

Spencer Double Triggers Uprising in Big 5th Inning

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals took command on a two-run double by Daryl Spencer and got another run on Ken Boyer's 13th homer in a 5-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Wednesday night.

Los Angeles left-hander Sandy Koufax, who had given up only four hits in his last 22 innings, was touched for eight in a hurry and was chased in the fifth. He suffered his sixth loss in seven decisions.

Cardinal rookie Julien Javier opened the fifth with a double and took third when Joe Cunningham singled. Javier scored on Boyer's single and Cunningham and Boyer came in on Spencer's double.

Boyer, the major league leader in homers, got No. 13 off Ed Roebuck with the bases empty in the seventh.

Nineteen-year-old Ray Sadecki, the youngest pitcher in the majors started for the Cards but couldn't get a man out. He was yanked after giving up a homer, a double, a single and a walk. The Dodgers got both their runs in the first, one of Jim Gilliam's homer and the other on Don Demeter's sacrifice fly.

Right-hander Bob Duliba, who relieved Sadecki and blanked the Dodgers for 4 2-3 innings, got the victory, his third in five decisions. Lindy McDaniel pitched the last 4 1-3 innings, giving up only two hits.

The victory was only the fourth for the Cardinals in 20 road games.

Hansen HR Leads Birds To 4-1 Win Over Yanks

BALTIMORE (AP) — Veteran Skinny Brown, backed by rookie Ron Hansen's three-run homer, pitched a one-hit 4-1 victory over the New York Yankees Wednesday night as the league-leading Baltimore Orioles continued their red-hot streak.

The Orioles now lead the American League by 2½ games. Second place Cleveland was rained out at Kansas City.

Brown a 35-year-old right-hander, allowed only three base runners. He gave up two fourth inning walks after Mickey Mantle hit his seventh home run with one out in the first inning.

After the homer, Brown retired eight batters in a row before Mantle walked to open the fourth. Yogi Berra also walked with one out, but the mild threat ended when Brown nabbed Bob Cerv's bouncer and started Baltimore's 55th double play of the season.

The Yanks went down in order after that, as an old pro on Baltimore's predominantly young pitching staff won his fourth game against only one loss.

Duke Maas, making his first start for New York, matched Brown through the first four innings.

But Maas, a 14-game winner in 1959, helped dig his own grave in the fifth. He walked leadoff batter Jackie Brandt, then threw wildly to first after picking up Brooks Robinson's sacrifice bunt.

Hansen then whacked a one-ball pitch over the 390-foot mark in left center field for his fourth homer. The three runs batted in gave the slender shortstop the American League lead with 32.

Baltimore added an unearned run in the seventh off relief pitcher John Gabler. Hansen walked with one out, moved to third on a wild pickoff attempt by Gabler, and scored on Marv Breeding's two-out single.

A crowd of 23,762 watched the Orioles win their 16th game in their last 21 starts.

LONE US GIRL REMAINS IN BRITISH GOLF

Barbara McIntire Faces Irish Champ In Final Today

HARLECH, Wales, (AP)—Barbara McIntire bowled over two of her American teammates Wednesday, and advanced to the final round of the British Women's Amateur golf championship. She will play the veteran Philomena Garvey of Ireland for the title Thursday.

Miss Garvey, 38, a longtime International competitor, thwarted an expected all-U. S. final by upsetting Joanne Gunderson of Kirkland, Wash., 3 and 2, in the semifinals.

Misses McIntire and Garvey will clash in a 36-hole match over the 6,290-yard, par 73 Royal St. David's course. The Teeoff time is 8:30 a. m. local time (3:30 a. m. Pottstown time.

Miss McIntire will be seeking to duplicate the feat of the late Babe Didrikson Zaharias and Louise Suggs in adding the British to the U. S. championship. Mrs. Zaharias won the British title in 1947, the first American to do so, and Miss Suggs in 1948—both, as in the case of Miss McIntire, while holding the U. S. crown.

THE LAST and only other American winner of this 67-year-old event was Margaret (Wiffi) Smith, who triumphed in 1956.

Miss McIntire, a 24-year-old real estate operator from Lake Park, Fla., defeated Joanne Goodwin of Haverhill, Mass., in the quarterfinals, 2 up, and then won over Anne Quast of Marysville, Wash., 4 and 3. All were members of the United States' successful Curtis cup team.

Miss Garvey trounced Hilary Williamson of England in the morning, 7 and 5, before stunning the long-hitting Miss Gunderson. Miss Gunderson advanced to the semifinals by crushing the Vicomtesse De Saint Sauveur, the French champion, 7 and 5.

Miss Garvey won this title in 1957 and was runner-up in 1946 and 1953. She has won the Irish Ladies championship seven times and has played on six British Curtis cup teams, dating back to 1948.

She is a renowned fighter. As she walked off the course, after beating Miss Gunderson, she remarked: "Well, at noon it was three Americans to one. Now its even up."

Roberts Drops 7th As Braves Pound Phils for 6-3 Triumph

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves hung the seventh defeat of the year on Robin Roberts Wednesday night, easily defeating the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-3.

Both teams made 10 hits but winning pitcher Bobby Buhl (4-2) managed to sidetrack the Phils at the proper times while Roberts, now 1-7, lacked effectiveness when he most needed it.

The Braves kept pecking away at Roberts, getting the important hit when needed. After Bill Bruton opened the game with a three-bagger and scored on a sacrifice fly the Braves stayed ahead.

Wes Covington hit his third home run in the sixth inning after two were out. He doubled home Hank Aaron in the fourth but Joe Adcock, also trying to score was out at the plate. Aaron had drawn a walk after Felix Mantilla singled to open the inning. Adcock singled to left to score Mantilla.

Milwaukee also picked up single runs in the eighth on Mantilla's single, a sacrifice, an intentional walk and Adcock's single and in the ninth on Johnny Logan's single, a hit batsman, a sacrifice and a long fly.

Tony Curry's double and Ken Walters' fly to Bruton accounted for the Phillies' first run in the fourth. Curry singled home Bobby Del Greco, who had doubled, in the fifth. The Phils added another in the ninth on a walk to Del Greco, Taylor's single, an outfield error and an infield out.

Phils' Meyer Placed On Disabled List; Phillips Called From Minors

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies placed Jack Meyer on the disabled list Wednesday because of a slipped disc.

He will be replaced on the roster by Taylor Phillips, a southpaw, who has been called up from Buffalo in the International league and will join the team Thursday.

The 28-year-old Meyer is in Jefferson hospital in a jack-knife position. Doctors said they expect the disc to slip back into place by itself.

Meyer must remain on the disabled list at least 30 days. The sometimes impressive pitcher had a 5-3 record last season. He was given a chance to start this year when Gene Mauch took over as manager of the Phillies. He's 3-1 this year.

MEYER AND HIS roommate, Harry Anderson, reportedly engaged in a friendly tussle Saturday night in their hotel room in Pittsburgh. When the team returned to Philadelphia, Meyer entered the hospital with what was described as a back injury.

Mauch said, "he'll get more than a mild reprimand" when he gets out. He would not say more. Meyer denied that Anderson was involved. He said, "merely print what the skipper said."

Lester Patrick, who was voted to the International Hockey Hall of Fame in 1947, built a hockey career that for length, success and versatility was matched by no one.

Starting with Brandon, Man. in 1904, he played 19 consecutive seasons of big league hockey. He is believd to be the first defenseman to carry the puck the length of the ice and score. He scored 146 goals as a professional.

Minneapolis-Honeywell's softballers used a big third inning as a springboard to their first City Softball league win Wednesday night, an 11-10 nod over Diamond Glass at Memorial park.

The winners had to fight down a last-ditch Diamond Glass rally in the seventh however, when the losers pushed over three runs to come within one of a tie.

Joe Penny, who took the mound loss, kept himself in hot water with seven free tickets, though he surrendered but seven hits. He struck out three.

The winners rallied in the bottom of the third for six runs to overcome a 5-2 Diamond Glass lead, and where never headed, though a two-run uprising in the fifth cut the margin to 8-7.

Baumann Pitches Chisox to 6-0 Nod Over Detroit On Four-Hit Showing

DETROIT (AP) — Frank Baumann came out of the Chicago bull pen Wednesday night and gave the Chicago White Sox a rare, route-going performance with a dazzling four-hitter in a 6-0 triumph over the Detroit Tigers.

The stocky southpaw, making the most of his first starting assignment, bested Jim Bunning in a pitching duel that was decided in the fifth when the Sox broke up Bunning's hitless effort with three hits and two runs.

A single by Minnie Minoso, a run-scoring double by Sherm Lollar, and another single by Gene Freese were the only hits the White Sox mustered off the veteran Detroit right-hander.

Tom Morgan worked the ninth inning after Bunning was lifted for a pinch-hitter, and Chicago got to Morgan for four runs, coming on Earl Torgeson's solo home run and a three-run homer by Freese.

The defending champion White Sox had received only two complete games from their pitching staff in their last 17 starts before Baumann dealt the streaky Tigers their fifth straight loss.

The Tigers have had winning streaks of four, five and six games and losing skids of 10 and 5.

They put only five runners on base against Baumann, who walked just one batter and did not allow a hit in the last four innings.

St. Paddy Wins Epsom Classic

EPSOM, England, (AP)—Sir Victor Sassoon's St. Paddy Wednesday won a tragic Epsom derby which brought death to France's finest racing colt.

Angers, pride of the French tracks and his American owner, Mrs. Ralph Beaver Strassburger of Paris and Norristown, Pa., suffered a broken leg during the 1½ mile race and had to be shot.

The son of Worden, who won the 1953 Washington, D. C., International at Laurel, Md., started as the 2-1 favorite in a field of 17.

The 250,000 crowd, cheering the winner into the paddock in bright sunshine, knew nothing of the tragedy until half an hour later. Angers was destroyed where he fell, halfway around the horseshoe shaped course and out of sight of the main stands.

MIAMIAN TOPS SONNY RAY IN CHICAGO BOUT

Willie Pastrano Gains 4th Straight Win This Year

CHICAGO, (AP) — Willie Pastrano, No. 3 ranked light heavyweight, jogged and jabbed his way to a unanimous 10 round decision over Chicago's Sonny Ray Wednesday night.

The victory was Pastrano's fourth straight this year and came by a lopsided margin under the five point must system.

Referee Walter Brightmore gave the clever Miami boxer a 49-42 edge. Judge Howard Walsh scored it 48-46 and Judge John Schreiner 47-44. The Associated Press card favored Pastrano 49-45.

Pastrano weighed 175 pounds and Ray 173.

BRIGHTMORE GAVE Pastrano every round except the eighth. It was then that the unranked Ray, fighting for only the second time this year, connected with his first solid right. Pastrano wasn't fazed by it.

Ray really caught up with his slippery opponent in the ninth. The two judges and the AP gave this round to the Chicagoan.

For Ray, it was like fighting a shadow until his connection in the eighth and then his rally in the ninth. He shook Pastrano with a right, dug a good left to his midsection and landed another right.

But Pastrano, who has not been flattened in 45 bouts, absorbed the blows and flitted out of range.

The victory gave Pastrano a record of 35-7-3. Ray's is 17-16-6.

A gathering of 698 Chicago stadium fans contributed to a net gate of $882 for the televised affair.

Smith Whiffs 20 In Row, Pitches Perfect K-H Game

Georgie Smith pitched a perfect Knee-Hi league game Wednesday night, as the Pottsgrove Optimists dumped Holy Trinity, 12-0 at Memorial park.

Smith, one of the leading hurlers in the circuit last year, fanned 20 of the 21 batters he faced in the game. The 20 came in succession.

Meanwhile, the Optimists tagged two Holy Trinity pitchers for 12 hits and a big nine-run fourth inning to wrap up the game.

There were no Holy Trinity base runners, via error or otherwise.

Coatesville Wins All-Sports Trophy

Grigg Named V.P. at Ches-Mont Meeting

Samuel Evans of Downingtown was re-elected president of the Ches-Mont league Wednesday night at the circuit's annual June meeting, held at Brookside country club.

The meeting—primarily a social affair—also saw Morrell E. Grigg of Pottstown High reelected vice president and Robert Fitzgerald of Conestoga became the new league secretary.

Some 132 coaches and administrative heads of the 10 member schools attended the affair, held in the club ballroom. It was preceded by dinner and a golf outing.

The league's Spring champions—in three cases Coatesville and Spring-Ford in the other — were formally recognized, and Coatesville was presented with the league All-Sports trophy, its second in the three years since the award came into being.

THE RED RAIDERS were named champions of the relays, track and field, and baseball. Spring-Ford won its second golf championship to break the Coatesville monopoly.

Walt Funk—who is finishing his final season as Coatesville track coach—accepted the All-Sports trophy, as well as the awards for relays and track, on behalf of the Red Raiders.

Leo Atkinson was on hand to accept the baseball thophy and Connie Eliff accepted the golf award. Evans—who had charge of the meeting—made the presentations.

On a motion from Grigg, Cecil Jenkins of Phoenixville was voted a memorium of $75 for his duties as secretary-treasurer.

THE MOTION was carried unanimously.

An auditing committee, with Stanley I. Davenport Jr., of Pottstown High, Robert McCardell of Conestoga and Ray Weaver of Conshohocken was appointed by Evans to report at the league's Sept. 19 meeting at Spring-Ford.

Two coaches announced their retirement at the meeting. William Monahan, track and cross-country coach at Conestoga, announced that he was giving up the Spring sport, and Max Stuber is giving up swimming at Coatesville.

Several awards were presented to the day's golfers. Mostly fun awards, they consisted of balls, ballwashers and other equipment.

There were awards for low ball, birdies, most balls out of bounds, most balls in the water, most balls lost, heckling, fastest game, most colossal score and earliest arrival.

Ralph Moses scattered seven hits and Coventryville scored three in a big fourth inning to shade Second Baptist, 4-2 in a Church league contest at Memorial park.

The defending champion Coventryville unit was making its first appearance of the year at Memorial park, and jumped all the way into a second-place tie with St. James as a result of the win.

Second Baptist lead after an inning, 1-0, but Gary Spohn, who allowed five hits over the route, was roughed up in the fourth, when the winners salted the game away.

Jack Painter and Frank Fries each drove in a run in the big flurry. Painter, who led the winners at the dish, had a double and triple in four trips.

The winners scored an insurance tally in the seventh, causing Spohn to be lifted in favor of Lou Gresh.

Motion Defeated

PARIS (AP)—The National Assembly Wednesday defeated a motion to free Pierre Lagaillarde, held in prison awaiting trial on charges of plotting against the state during the January insurrection in Algiers.

The move to free Lagaillarde, an Algiers deputy, came from a Conservative deputy who said that, since no action had been taken to lift Lagaillarde's parliamentary immunity, he was still an active deputy and entitled to take his seat until tried.

Sam Jones Hurls, Bats Giants to 2-1 Victory

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sam Jones hit a two-out ninth inning double to score Bob Schmidt with the run that gave the San Francisco Giants a 2-1 victory over Chicago Wednesday.

The extra base hit capped a four-hitter by Jones, his sixth victory in 10 decisions. Loser Dick Ellsworth allowed only five hits.

Ellsworth had a two-hitter until two were out in the ninth but gave up a single to Schmidt after retiring Willie Kirkland and Andre Rodgers.

Cub Manager Lou Boudreau's strategy backfired in the ninth when Ernie Banks, on third via a double and outfield fly, was caught in a rundown after Don Zimmer missed the ball on an attempted squeeze bunt.

Jones struck out seven and walked only one.

Ellsworth, a 20-year-old rookie, evened his record at 2-2. He had retired 10 Giants in a row before Schmidt came to bat.

A crowd of 10,751 watched the windup of a four-game series which was split.

Manager Bill Rigney benched second baseman Don Blasingame, hitting only .219 and shuffled his lineup in an attempt to get more power after the club dropped to second behind National League leading Pittsburgh.

Rodgers was put on third base, Joe Amalfitano was shifted from third to second and shortstop Eddie Bressoud took over the lead-off spot.

Wildness caused left-hander Ellsworth trouble frequently as he walked six while striking out only three. The first Giant run came in the third when Ellsworth walked Rodgers and the newcomer took second on Jones' sacrifice and scored on Bressoud's single.

The Cubs came right back in the fourth when Banks singled and scored on Ed Bouchee's long triple to right center.

The Giants left two men stranded in the third, fourth and fifth innings. Ellsworth got out of those jams by getting Willie Mays, the Giants' leading hitter at .344, to ground out, Schmidt to foul out and cleanup hitter Willie McCovey to ground out.

Friend 3-Hitter Earns Bucs 5-0 Win Over Cincy

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Bob Friend gave up only three hits in pitching the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates to a 5-0 victory over Cincinnati Wednesday night.

The victory was the Pirates' fifth in a row and enabled them to hold their game and a half lead over the second-place San Francisco Giants, who edged Chicago 2-1.

Eddie Kasko's two singles and Roy McMillan's singles were the only hits off Friend, whose record now stands at six victories and two losses. He struck out six and walked only one.

In the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh innings, Friend set the side down in order.

The pirates got four of their runs off the Redlegs' starting pitcher, Bob Purkey, an ex-pirate. Charged with the loss, Purkey's record stands at three victories and two defeats.

The Pirates scored two runs in the first on singles by Don Hoak and Cocky Nelson and a double by Dick Groat.

They tallied two more in the third on Roberto Clemente's bases loaded double, a blow that chased Purkey.

Singles by Hoak, Groat and Bob Skinner scored the fifth run for Pittsburgh in the seventh.

Cincinnati reliever Bill Henry struck out three Pirates in the eighth.

Plate Umpire Shag Crawford ejected Cincinnati catcher Ed Bailey in the third for arguing about a pitch.

Yawkey Spurns Offer Of $5 Million for Sox

BOSTON (AP)—A syndicate of 10 greater Boston business men tried unsuccessfully Tuesday to buy the Red Sox.

Herbert Abrams, Boston and Brookline attorney, said Wednesday we "made a firm offer of 5 million dollars" for the American league franchise.

Abrams said Richard O'Connell, Sox business manager, told him "the Red Sox are not for sale."

"I asked if we would be considered if an opportunity to buy presented itself but was told that is unlikely."

Abrams declined to identify the group he represented but said they were substantial business men who had no intentions of throwing money away.

Tom Yawkey, Sox owner, reiterated Wednesday "I'm not interested in selling the club."

Clovers, Raiders Tie, 4-4 In 1st Junior Loop Tilt

The Clovers and Raiders battled to a 4-4 stalemate in the opening game of the Junior league season Wednesday night at Memorial park.

It took a two-run seventh by the Clovers however, to gain the tie in the contest, which was called at the end of seven because of darkness.

The Clovers were outhit, 9-4, and went into the seventh trailing 4-2, but pushed a pair of unearned runs across to gain the deadlock.

Strike Launched Against New York Theaters

NEW YORK (AP)—The curtain failed to rise on the hit show "The Tenth Man" Wednesday, as Actors Equity launched the first all-out theater strike in 41 years. Every show on Broadway was expected to close within 24 hours.

An estimated 6,000 theatrical employes were affected by a producers' threat to close all 22 Broadway shows, plus seven on the road. Box office losses alone would top one million dollars a week.

Not affected would be the off-Broadway theater, the group of smaller, specialty dramatic centers outside the regular Manhattan theater district from Sixth to Eighth Avenue in the 40s and 50s.

Only 450 customers were in the audience at the Booth Theater on W. 45th St. when coproducer Arthur Cantor announced that "The Tenth Man" would not go on.

The show was a sellout but nearly 400 ticket holders stayed away in anticipation of the strike.

The audience was informed their tickets would be honored Wednesday at 13 other Broadway shows—excluding the top ones, which were sold out. Curtain time of the other shows was held up to accommodate the displaced "Tenth Man" audience.

The first move in Equity's hit-and-run strike against the League of New York Theaters had come about two hours earlier when contract talks had broken off in a bitter wrangle over pension demands.

Equity had long ago announced its plans to strike one theater at a time for one night at a time. The producers said a strike against one house would be a strike against all and that every theater on Broadway would be closed Thursday if "The Tenth Man" was struck.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner made a futile last-minute effort to get the actors and producers together. But he couldn't surmount the problem of the union's pension demands. The producers said they would force a boost in already inflated ticket prices.

Thousands of unemployed actors and actresses milled about W. 45th St. and Shubert Alley as dusk descended on Manhattan and lights began to blaze from midtown theater marquees.

About an hour before curtain time, the 17 members of the "Tenth Man" cast—instead of reporting to the Booth Theater—went to an Equity meeting at union headquarters on W. 47th St.

Curtain time—8:30 p.m.—came and went before the producers of "Tenth Man" conceded defeat.

The league earlier had announced they would go into court Thursday morning with a million-dollar damage suit against Equity and the "Tenth Man" cast.

Broadway shows involved in the actors strike:

Musicals—"Bye Bye Birdie," "Destry Rides Again," "Fiorello!," "Finian's Rainbow," "Gypsy," "La Plume de ma Tante," "My Fair Lady," "Once Upon a Mattress," "Take Me Along," "The Music Man," "The Sound of Music" and "West Side Story."

Dramas—"A Raisin in the Sun," "Duel of Angels," "Five Finger Exercise," "The Andersonville Trial," "The Miracle Worker," "The Tenth Man" and "Toys in the Attic."

Comedies—"A Majority of One," "A Thurber Carnival" and "The Best Man."

Touring productions involved: "Flower Drum Song," "Look Homeward, Angel," "The Pleasure of His Company," "Show Business," "The Music Man," "Redhead" and "The World of Suzie Wong."

WHISK BANNED

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Deputy Speaker Diarmid Controy has put a tropical twist on a British House of Commons ban against members carrying brief cases and umbrellas into the chamber. In the Kenya Legislative Council, the newly forbidden items is the ubiquitous fly whisk and its banning raised laughter in the chamber. The whisk, among African elected officials, is a symbol of leadership—like a mace.

Soviet Commentator Finally Recognizes Pasternak

LONDON (AP)—A Soviet radio commentator Wednesday night accused Boris Pasternak's Western admirers of showering "high-flown glorification" on the dead writer.

He also broke the official Soviet silence on the 1958 Nobel Prize awarded Pasternak after his prize winning novel "Dr. Zhivago" was published in the West.

Moscow radio had ignored any reference to the book since its author died two days ago and his passing had previously been noted only in an obscure Soviet literary paper.

Commentator Ivan Stepanov criticized the British Broadcasting Corp. for a too "facile pose" on Soviet events and for allowing commentator John Lawrence to get on the air.

"Speaking on the BBC," said Stepanov, "Lawrence alleged that Boris Pasternak's literary work was not understood in the Soviet Union.

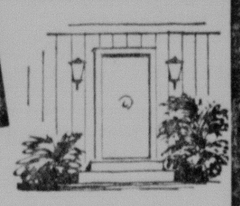

"This assertion is false. The Soviet peoples' high literary judgment is internationally recognized and their appraisal of any particular book or a writer's work in general does not need to be corrected by the BBC or any other broadcasters of Western propaganda."

Stepanov repeated old Soviet charges that Pasternak's novel had drawn the Nobel Prize for purely political considerations.

HE RE-GREW HAIR

Warren Feathers, Claysburg, Penna. (near Altoona), shows he regrew hair by the Lesley Home Treatment Method.

Hair Specialist Here Tomorrow; Will Show How To Save Hair and Prevent Baldness

New home treatment methods for saving hair and improving its growth will be demonstrated in POTTSTOWN, PENNA., on FRIDAY, JUNE 3, 1960 only. MR. F. I. BRODIE representing the Lesley Hair and Scalp Specialists, will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1:00 to 8:00 P.M. tomorrow at the HOTEL SHULER.

The Lesley Specialists point out that remarkable results have been attained by means of a personal examination followed by simple individual treatments that anyone can easily carry out in the privacy of his or her own home. Regular checkups in your city by a Lesley Specialist assure success in the minimum period of time.

EXAMINE YOU FREE

We want to make it clear that you incur absolutely no charge or obligation by coming in for an examination.

Your only obligation to yourself to ease your mind of hair worries by learning how to save and thicken your hair at home. We will tell you frankly and sincerely whether or not you can be helped, how long it will take and how much it will cost. We do not accept cases that will not respond. The cost of our treatments are appreciably lower than most treatments of this type.

WHO CAN BE HELPED?

The Lesley Organization urges that you do not resign yourself to a future without hair.

When you first notice your hair thinning, brought on usually by dandruff, itching, dryness, oiliness or follicles clogged with sebum or seborrhea, take positive action at once. See a Hair & Scalp Specialist.

Of course, we must have a client who still has some hair. If a person is completely bald, he waited too long and is refused treatment. However, if your scalp is still producing short hair it is possible to at least save and thicken what you have.

Some conditions, such as "spot baldness" usually have complete coverage if caught in time!

SATISFACTION FOR 96.3%

Last year, the Lesley Organization was able to satisfy 96.3% of its clients. That is a noteworthy record, and we are justifiably proud of it.

WRITTEN GUARANTEE

The Lesley Organization gives a written guarantee when you are accepted for a scalp treatment. You must be satisfied within Guarantee Period or money will be refunded.

Do yourself a favor. It takes less than 20 minutes for your free examination.

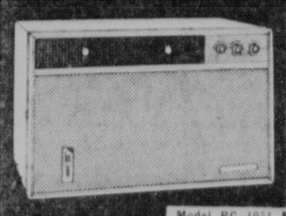

Stop by the HOTEL SHULER FRIDAY, only JUNE 3, 1960, between 1:00 P.M. and 8:00 P.M. Ask at the desk for MR. BRODIE'S room number. He does not work by appointment. Come at your convenience. Examinations are given privately. You will not be obliged or embarrassed in any way.

NO TREATMENT OF ANY KIND IS ADMINISTERED AT THE CLINIC.
